

Liberal Group Leader Hits Cutback Plans

Johnson's Intention To Trim Spending Brings Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's plans for cutbacks in domestic programs threaten to bring him into conflict with liberal House Democrats in the 90th Congress.

Although Republicans have greeted with enthusiasm Johnson's announcement of cuts to $5.3 billion in federal programs, Democrats are showing much less willingness to go along with their party's leader.

"I disagree 150 per cent," says Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., who is chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, a liberal group that frequently is at odds with Johnson.

Less vehemently, other Democrats privately express doubts about the course Johnson has elected to follow.

"I just don't think Congress is going to make any cutbacks," said a prominent House member who has long supported the administration.

The programs these members want to see cut are the education, housing and anti-poverty programs the Democrats fought long and hard to bring into being. Johnson has called for deferring some and cutting back others.

Program Cuts Due if Levy Fails Dec. 13

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is the second in a series of articles prepared by members of the Circleville Board of Education. Their effort has been concentrated on familiarizing city school district voters with the need for passage of the 3.5-mill operating levy scheduled for special vote on Dec. 13.

Rising costs are evident to every person in Circleville.

These rising costs are not restricted to households. They apply to business, industry and obviously to school operation as well.

It necessarily follows, that as costs increase more money is needed to meet the rise. If funds are not available to meet these rising costs something must be eliminated that will reflect savings equal to the cost increases.

Circleville City Schools need additional operating funds simply to maintain the present program. This is one reason for the additional levy which will be decided at a special election on Dec. 13.

Unless the levy passes, cuts in the educational program will follow.

Ironton Chief Slain in Break

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — Police Chief Walter Eugene Markel of Ironton was shot and killed today during a jail break. Another patrolman and two jail inmates wounded in a gun battle inside and just outside the jail.

The break from the Lawrence County jail came shortly before noon when a prisoner, Jim Bailey, went to the jail office to use a telephone. While there, officers said, he grabbed a gun from Deputy Sheriff Larry Chapman and ordered Chapman and two other deputies to stand against a wall.

The deputies then were ordered to open a cell block, freeing Donald E. Jenkins, Carl A. Hallack and Ronald Brown. Meanwhile, a call for help had been made to the police department.

U.S. Planes Strike Hard Near Hanoi

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Waves of U.S. bombers pounded an oil depot and truck park near Hanoi today in the closest raids to the North Vietnamese capital in five months.

Taking advantage of clearing weather, about 20 carrier-based Navy planes attacked the Van Dien vehicle depot five miles south of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman announced.

Simultaneously, 50 to 70 Air Force Phantom jets and Thunderchiefs raided the Ha Gia oil depot 14 1/2 miles north of Hanoi, the spokesman said.

U.S. headquarters said a damage assessment of the raids had not been compiled from the pilots' reports.

The raids were the closest to Hanoi since June 29, when American planes struck an oil depot three miles from the center of the city as well as an oil depot on the outskirts of Hanoi.

U.S. headquarters said a damage assessment of the raids had not been compiled from the pilots' reports.

An earlier report from a U.S. spokesman placed the raids today at four miles from Hanoi but a later announcement corrected this.

In the ground war in South Viet Nam, U.S. air cavalrymen battled Red troops for nine hours Thursday in the Central Lowlands 280 miles northeast of Saigon and killed 69 of them, U.S. military spokesmen reported. The troops of the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) suffered light casualties, the spokesman said.

2nd Defendant Convicted in Robbery-Killing

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A 20-year-old Medina County man was convicted of first-degree murder Thursday night in the slaying of Paul J. Morlan, an Akron rubber worker.

A common pleas court jury of six men and six women recommended mercy for Ray D. King, of Lodi, saving him from the electric chair and making life imprisonment mandatory.

Morlan, 46, was slain last July 29 near his home in the Kenmore section as he was returning from work.

Ray Pemberton, 21, also of Lodi, was convicted Nov. 8 in connection with the slaying and was sentenced to die in the electric chair April 14.

Three other young men are awaiting trial on first-degree murder charges in the robbery-slaying.

Ohio Plans Meet With Tag Makers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fred Rice, registrar of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, said today that he will meet early next week with representatives of auto license manufacturers from Conway, Ark., and St. Paul, Minn., to negotiate making of some 1.4 million pairs of Ohio plates.

Ohio needs the 1967 plates because of the destruction of Manufacturing equipment at the Lebanon Correctional Institution in a fire earlier in the week.

The wife of Sheriff Carl E. Rose called police from the sheriff's living quarters next to the jail.

"We knew there was something . . . we could hear them," said Deputy Mozella Rutledge, who was with Mrs. Rose at the time.

"The next thing we knew there was a shot," she said. She said the prisoners apparently opened fire and city police, deputies and highway patrolmen returned the shots.

The prisoners had forced Deputy Bob Henry to get them a machinegun and ammunition from a locked cabinet before the gun battle broke out, she said.

Reading Dips To 12; More Snow Arrives

Pickaway County received another premature blow from Old Man Winter Thursday evening and again early today.

Two inches of new snow last night was followed by a few of 12 degrees above zero early this morning.

Fair skies today and tonight will cause an even colder temperature reading by Saturday morning, according to the local weatherman. A low of zero to five above is predicted with a high tomorrow of only 18-20.

Thursday evening's snowfall, accompanied by a drop in temperature, caused driving conditions to be extremely hazardous. However, no injury accidents were recorded locally due to slippery highway conditions.

A FEW minor accidents did occur as the result of snow covered highways. The sheriff's department checked out two fender bender type mishaps, the state patrol investigated three and city police reported only one.

Most state and county highways were still covered in spots today due to drifting snow. Motorists were advised to drive with caution. City streets also were slippery in spots and listed as "hazardous."

Although near zero temperatures are forecast, new snowfall is expected to be at a minimum.

Paul Teegardin Is Dead at Age of 63

Paul W. Teegardin, 63, Ashville, died of an apparent heart attack shortly after 8 p. m. Thursday while walking to get aid to pull his station wagon from a ditch.

Mr. Teegardin's automobile had skidded into a ditch on the South Bloomfield-Royalton Road nine miles north of Circleville.

Mrs. Teegardin was waiting in the stranded automobile at the time.

A passing motorist, Robert Fisher, had seen Mr. Teegardin walking and had then noticed the car. He stopped to offer assistance to Mrs. Teegardin and they were going to pick up her husband when they found him in the snow a little more than a half-mile from the car.

FISHER administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while Mrs. Teegardin went to the home of Arthur Sark to summon an ambulance. However he was dead on arrival at Berger Hospital.

When Teegardin was an active breeder of Polled Shorthorn cattle, his herd was considered one of the finest in the nation.

He is one of three brothers who are members of the Ohio State University Agricultural Hall of Fame.

He was a member of the board of directors of the American Shorthorn Breeders Assn.

Although the purebred herd was dispersed several years ago, Teegardin was still active as a buyer in livestock circles.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by one son, Paul Teegardin Jr., Dunkle Road; one daughter, Mrs. Carol Butler, Rochester, N. Y.; three brothers and three sisters.

The body was taken to the Maer Funeral Home pending final arrangements.

Associates of Wilson reported that he was pessimistic about the outcome.

The two leading antagonists in the 13-month-old rebellion that threatens to tear the commonwealth apart went aboard the cruiser Tiger during the night as she lay at anchor in the rain-lashed Bay of Algiers west of Gibraltar.

This morning the Tiger moved out into the rain-swept strait between Africa and Europe, reportedly bound either toward the Mediterranean island of Malta, 900 miles to the east, or toward Madeira, in the Atlantic 600 miles from Gibraltar.

Wilson and a team of top advisers flew to Gibraltar Thursday night after promising he would never surrender British principles.

He told the House of Commons that Britain and Rhodesia "are within hailing distance of a possible settlement" but cautioned that "there is still a considerable gap to bridge."

Officers said Ray Phillips, an Oakdale lumber yard owner, and Quinman Sisco, Phillips' employee, found the device in the airport garage and took it to Oakdale.

They told police they heard a newscast warning of the potential danger and notified police.

Richard Paoli, an electrical engineer with the University of California Space Sciences Laboratory at Berkeley, said he inadvertently left the instrument at the garage as he and Roland Scholz were taking it to the Berkeley laboratory from the Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, Md.

U.S. Planes Strike Hard Near Hanoi

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Waves of U.S. bombers pounded an oil depot and truck park near Hanoi today in the closest raids to the North Vietnamese capital in five months.

Taking advantage of clearing weather, about 20 carrier-based Navy planes attacked the Van Dien vehicle depot five miles south of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman announced.

The raids were the closest to Hanoi since June 29, when American planes struck an oil depot three miles from the center of the city as well as an oil depot on the outskirts of Hanoi, North Viet Nam's chief port. They were the first American attacks in the immediate vicinity of North Viet Nam's two most important cities.

An earlier report from a U.S. spokesman placed the raids today at four miles from Hanoi but a later announcement corrected this.

In the ground war in South Viet Nam, U.S. air cavalrymen battled Red troops for nine hours Thursday in the Central Lowlands 280 miles northeast of Saigon and killed 69 of them, U.S. military spokesmen reported. A unit of the U.S. 101st Air

Vietnamese military headquarters reported that government militiamen moved into a hamlet on the outskirts of Saigon and seized two cases of Chinese Communist TNT which local residents said the Viet Cong planned to use against ships at Saigon's new $50-million Newport docking area.

Officials pointed to reports of 5,700 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed during October, compared with 900 South Vietnamese and 340 Americans. They also pointed to the increasing number of Communist fighters captured — 2,416 during October compared with 2,200 in the July-September period.

Fish Dealers Await Friday With Doubts

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Catholics throughout the country began a meat-on-Friday era today and the prevailing mood among fish dealers ranged between apprehension and gloom.

Along the Fulton Street Fish Market most dealers preferred to play wait-and-see rather than try to prognosticate.

The Marke research Corp. predicted the end of meat abstention might cause a drop of 8 to 10 per cent in fish sales and said, "Retailers should plan merchandising programs which would promote fish as a week-around dish."

In Chicago, Booth Fisheries announced it had increased its advertising budget 50 per cent — to $1,250,000 a year.

However, at the State Fish Co. of San Pedro, one of California's biggest fish dealers, a spokesman insisted that "after all those years, people will still eat fish on Friday."

And Warren Enos, sales coordinator for a large Boston waterfront wholesaler, declared: "We haven't seen any effect yet. We don't expect any slump."

"After all," he reasoned, "many Catholics like fish so much they eat it twice a week."

Reading Dips To 12; More Snow Arrives

Pickaway County received another premature blow from Old Man Winter Thursday evening and again early today.

Two inches of new snow last night was followed by temperatures dropping to a low of 12 degrees above zero early this morning.

Fair skies today and tonight will cause an even colder temperature reading by Saturday morning, according to the local weatherman. A low of zero to five above is predicted with a high tomorrow of only 18-20.

Thursday evening's snowfall, accompanied by a drop in temperature, caused driving conditions to be extremely hazardous. However, no injury accidents were recorded locally due to slippery highway conditions.

A FEW minor accidents did occur as the result of snow covered highways. The sheriff's department checked out two fender bender type mishaps, the state patrol investigated three and city police reported only one.

Most state and county highways were still covered in spots today due to drifting snow. Motorists were advised to drive with caution. City streets also were slippery in spots and listed as "hazardous."

Although near zero temperatures are forecast, new snowfall is expected to be at a minimum.

Nurses Leave Hospitals Half-Empty

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Youngstown Hospital Association today granted a wage increase of 20 per cent over two years and an additional 3.6 per cent for each of service up to four years to nurses who have not resigned from two of the city's hospitals.

Jack Maikranz, administrator of North Side Hospital, said the statement applied only to those nurses who reported for work today.

A spokesman for the Youngstown Hospital Association, which operates North Side and South Side hospitals, said about half of the 780 beds at the two hospitals were vacant and the number of patients would be reduced further today.

No transfer of patients is necessary because those who left have been discharged by their physicians as not needing further hospitalization, the spokesman added.

Youngstown's third major hospital, St. Elizabeth, and Trumbull Memorial Hospital in nearby Warren, are reported at capacity.

A spokesman for the Ohio State Nurses Association, bargaining agent for the Youngstown nurses, said about 90 per cent of the nurses had resigned.

William Peer, counsel for the state association, said the nurses are ready to bargain but have received no word from the hospitals.

Joyce Nagel, head of the Youngstown Nurses Association, said the hospital association had offered pay increases of $41 a month. The present monthly salary is $429.

The state association is demanding $480 a month, retroactive to Oct. 1, with an increase to $500 March 1 and to $530 on Dec. 1, 1967.

2 Americans Plead Guilty

MOSCOW (AP) — Two young Americans have pleaded guilty to charges lodged against them in Leningrad, the official Soviet news agency Tass said today.

One of the two, Craddock M. Gilmour Jr., of Salt Lake City, Utah, was released earlier in the day from Leningrad jail on $11,111 bail on a charge of currency violation, Tass said.

He was arrested Oct. 1 with Ray Buel Wortham Jr. of North Little Rock, Ark. who remained in custody in Leningrad. Wortham is charged both with currency violation and a second charge of theft of an antique bear from a Leningrad hotel. The Soviets so far have refused to release him on bail.

A Tass dispatch from Leningrad implied, but did not clearly state, that the two had pleaded guilty to all the charges. It said they would "go on trial in a few days time."

Paul Teegardin Is Dead at Age of 63

Paul W. Teegardin, 63, Ashville, died of an apparent heart attack shortly after 8 p. m. Thursday while walking to get aid to pull his station wagon from a ditch.

Mr. Teegardin's automobile had skidded into a ditch on the South Bloomfield-Royalton Road nine miles north of Circleville.

Mrs. Teegardin was waiting in the stranded automobile at the time.

A passing motorist, Robert Fisher, had seen Mr. Teegardin walking and had then noticed the car. He stopped to offer assistance to Mrs. Teegardin and they were going to pick up her husband when they found him in the snow a little more than a half-mile from the car.

FISHER administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while Mrs. Teegardin went to the home of Arthur Sark to summon an ambulance. However he was dead on arrival at Berger Hospital.

When Teegardin was an active breeder of Polled Shorthorn cattle, his herd was considered one of the finest in the nation. He is one of three brothers who are members of the Ohio State University Agricultural Hall of Fame.

He was a member of the board of directors of the American Shorthorn Breeders Assn.

Although the purebred herd was dispersed several years ago, Teegardin was still active as a buyer in livestock circles.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by one son, Paul Teegardin Jr., Dunkle Road; one daughter, Mrs. Carol Butler, Rochester, N. Y.; three brothers and three sisters.

The body was taken to the Maeger Funeral Home pending final arrangements.

Wilson Seeks Settlement With Rebels

LONDON (AP) — On a British warship steaming through heavy seas in the Strait of Gibraltar, Britain's Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Rhodesia's Ian Smith met today for a last desperate attempt to agree on ending the white Rhodesians' rebellion against eventual African rule.

Associates of Wilson reported that he was pessimistic about the outcome.

The two leading antagonists in the 13-month-old rebellion that threatens to tear the commonwealth apart went aboard the cruiser Tiger during the night as she lay at anchor in the rain-lashed Bay of Algeiras west of Gibraltar.

This morning the Tiger moved out into the rain-swept strait between Africa and Europe, reportedly bound either toward the Mediterranean island of Malta, 990 miles to the east, or toward Madeira, in the Atlantic 600 miles from Gibraltar.

Wilson and a team of top advisers flew to Gibraltar Thursday night after promising he would never surrender British principles.

He told the House of Commons that Britain and Rhodesia "are within hailing distance of a possible settlement" but cautioned that "there is still a considerable gap to bridge."

Union Vote Slated At Washington C.H.

CINCINNATI (AP) — A collective bargaining election for 62 production and maintenance employees of Redman Industries, Inc. at Washington Court House has been set for Dec. 9.

The AFL — CIO International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers wants to represent the employees, the National Labor Relations Board said today.

Nixon In Front, Dirksen Declares

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois says the field is wide open for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968, but adds that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is a front-runner.

He also named Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan of California as possibilities.

"The woodwork has a way of producing people," he said. Dirksen made the statement at a news conference Thursday before receiving the silver medal of the Union League of Philadelphia a century-old business and professional men's club.

— his first since being hospitalized for recurring hip trouble — Dirksen told 1,400 persons that a "strange ferment and turbulence" in today's youth is threatening the nation. They heard Dirksen trap the Harvard University students who recently heckled Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara during a speech there.

Calling the students "stupid juveniles," Dirksen said he wanted to accept Harvard's next speech offer "to give it to them from the Book."

Evans, who told a news conference Thursday his group would work to keep Michigan Gov. George Romney from getting the 1968 GOP nomination, said it would take no part in the draft-Reagan effort until a convention scheduled for February 1968 in Dallas.

If Reagan does not enter the presidential race, Evans said URA could support former vice President Richard M. Nixon against Romney.

Lethal Space Device Left In Garage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A potentially dangerous space instrument, designed to measure radiation that might harm moon-bound astronauts, has been recovered in Oakland, about 80 miles from San Francisco International Airport where it disappeared Wednesday night.

The instrument, valued at $15,000, contained argon gas at a pressure of 100 pounds per square inch. It could have exploded if tampered with.

Officers said Ray Phillips, an Oakland lumber yard owner, and Quinnan Sisco, Phillips' employee, found the device in the airport garage and took it to Oakland.

They told police they heard a newscast warning of the potential danger and notified police.

Richard Paoli, an electrical engineer with the University of California Space Sciences Laboratory at Berkeley, said he inadvertently left the instrument at the garage as he and Roland Scholz were taking it to the Berkeley laboratory from the Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, Md.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of a conservative Republican organization predicted today that a nationwide move will be launched soon to draft Ronald Reagan for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

D. Bruce Evans, chairman of United Republicans of America, said, "I think an effort will be launched by several of the conservative organizations in the near future to draft him."

In an interview, Evans compared it with the draft-Goldwater campaign launched months before former Sen. Barry Goldwater announced his candidacy for the 1964 Republican nomination.

Reagan, elected governor of California last month, has said he expects to serve out his four-year term but might be a "favorite son" candidate at the 1968 GOP convention.

Evans, who told a news conference Thursday his group would work to keep Michigan Gov. George Romney from getting the 1968 GOP nomination, said it would take no part in the draft-Reagan effort until a convention scheduled for February 1968 in Dallas.

If Reagan does not enter the presidential race, Evans said URA could support former vice President Richard M. Nixon against Romney.

Little Hope For Quint

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Quintuplet Roni Sue Aranson lay near death today and her doctor said the "outlook for life is almost hopeless."

Dr. Lee Bass, who has been attending the lone surviving quintuplet at Magee-Women's Hospital, said she had suffered brain damage and her condition was very grave.

He said it appeared the 6-day-old infant would not live through the day.

Roni Sue was racked by a convulsion Thursday after experiencing breathing trouble — the same problem that claimed the lives of her four sisters.

High-Speed Railway Cars Being Tested

BOSTON (AP) — Railroad cars that will be used in high-speed runs between Boston and Washington have already been tested at speeds of 152 miles an hour, says an official of the Budd Co., which is building the cars.

Speeds up to 160 miles an hour are expected when the line goes into service early next year.

Says Election Shows Fascism Again Evident

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, in France on a state visit, made a biting attack on West Germany today and sounded a warning against the resurrection of "the forces of fascism."

Kosygin turned what was expected to have been a ceremonial visit to the Paris City Hall into a denunciation of what he said were West German ambitions for territory and nuclear arms.

"The present situation in Europe is far from reassuring," the 62-year-old Kremlin leader said.

"Demands for revision of postwar frontiers, coupled with pretensions for nuclear armament, carry the threat of upsetting the equilibrium and the peace of Europe," he said.

"The forces of fascism and war, defeated on the battlefield, are reappearing in broad daylight, unembarrassed and arrogant. The results of the recent elections in West Germany — in Bavaria and Hesse — constitute a new warning which should put even the most unconcerned on their guard."

Kosygin was referring to the recent electoral successes of the rightist National Democratic party, which succeeded in winning a few seats in the Bavarian and Hessian legislatures for the first time.

The Soviet premier said the only lasting bases for European security are "the inviolability of existing frontiers, particularly the Oder-Neisse frontier, and the denial of West German access to nuclear arms, under any form whatsoever."

Gales Menace Shipping Off British Isles

LONDON (AP) — Radio distress signals crackled from at least half a dozen ships today as gales lashed the British Isles and surrounding seas.

The winds, gusting to nearly 130 miles an hour, blew heavy trucks off roads and left a trail of havoc.

Snow and heavy rain hit England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

Rain spattered Italy from the Alps to Sicily and waters rose again at Venice and Florence, the chief centers stricken by the great flood of Nov. 4.

A southeast wind whipped a high tide from the northern Adriatic over St. Mark's Square to Venice and the swollen Arno River again spilled into the fields in some outskirts of Florence. Officials at both cities, however, said the waters were expected to subside without serious damage.

Sheppard To Appear At Investigation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard was at Cuyahoga County Criminal Courts Building today to appear before the county grand jury in a special investigation into the bludgeon death 12 years ago of his first wife, Marilyn.

Also subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury were F. Lee Bailey, Sheppard's chief defense counsel in the retrial; Fred Drenkhan, Bay Village police chief and first policeman to arrive at the Sheppard home the day Marilyn was killed; former Cleveland detective Patrick Gareau, who worked on the 1954 case, and Jay Hubach, former Bay Village police chief and a sergeant on the police force in 1954.

Runnymede to Windsor,
Via 18th Century, Ltd.

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP) — It was like being swept back 200 years into the stagecoach days of gracious Georgian England.
Drawn by four prancing horses, a superbly preserved 18th century stagecoach rolled through England's green and winding—and asphalted—ways from historic Runnymede toward historic Windsor.
—Eleven guests, bundled to their noses in huge warm coats on a cold day, perched on padded cushion seats atop the old coach, with magnificent views in all directions.
A postilion named Trevor, dressed in a gold-braided scarlet coat and leather leggings, tooted on a long brass coaching horn as we rumbled through each village.
Hundreds of villagers stared in astonishment.
Everything looked 18th century except one thing—the two shapely legs of miniskirted Jutta Morris of the British Travel Association, twirling from beneath her heavy cloak.
—It's the most marvelous feeling in the world! Jutta shouted above the wind. "Despite my, er, ah, skirt—I feel as if I'm back in another century!"
Commencing next May, Keith

Snow Blanket
Creates Ohio
Road Hazards

Marion Reports
Temperature of
One Above Zero

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A snow blanket ranging from one to five inches lay over Ohio Friday, with winter taking its hardest swing at the northeastern area. Low temperatures and winds accompanying widely scattered snow squalls also featured the state's weather.
Most primary and secondary highways in the state were snow covered, or partly so, and slippery, making driving hazardous. But hundreds of state highway snow crews were out working on the roads and no road closings were reported.
The Ohio Turnpike was dry in the west, with a snow passing lane in the east and with a 40 m.p.h. speed limit posted from Exit 11 to the Pennsylvania line.
Coldest spot in the state was marked up at Marion — with 1 above. Mansfield had two above zero at 8 a.m. Dayton was listed at 8 degrees in the early morning, Cincinnati 15, Toledo 6, Findlay, 5, Cleveland 4, Akron 6, Youngstown 4, Columbus 10 and Zanesville 11.
The snow ranged from 3 inches at Cleveland, to 6 at Akron, 4 in Dayton, 4 in Mansfield, 5 in Youngstown, 4 in Zanesville and 5 in the Columbus area.
Partly sunny and colder today was the outlook for Central Ohio with lows of zero to five above predicted for tonight, followed Saturday by fair and cold weather. In the northwest area, continued cold with a few snow flurries.
A total of 13 persons have died shoveling snow since the first storm hit Monday night.
Total snow accumulation in Geauga County was 10 inches, including five inches from Thursday.
New bitter cold and snow pressed eastward into the northern Appalachians today, spreading frigid conditions across most of the northern states.
Sub-zero temperatures again embraced the Northern Plains. International Falls, Minn., had 11 below zero. In contrast, it was 65 in the early morning at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station, Tex.
Skies were clear across the southern part of the nation from Southern California to Florida.
A major storm in the Gulf of Alaska, packing winds up to 100 miles an hour, caused heavy damage to the little town of Valdez at the head of Prince William Sound, but no injuries were reported.

Tax Exemption
For Elderly
To Be Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Tax Study Commission, says Chairman C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville, will give serious consideration to recommending to the 1967 legislature a "homestead exemption" to the elderly.
The commission, which completed a series of hearings on the state's tax problems this week, has discussed the plight of the retired person living on a fixed income as a "severe problem." Mechem said.
—One of the planks in Democrat Frazier Reams Jr.'s unsuccessful campaign for governor — would provide an exemption from real estate taxes. The percentages would vary with the retired person's income.
Some states grant such an exemption to retired persons with incomes of $3,000 or less, others have set the figure at $5,000.

Outlook Dim
For Pan-Am
Settlement

NEW YORK (AP) — The Transport Workers Union (TWU) agreed today to an hour-to-hour postponement of a strike that would ground Pan American World Airways, the nation's largest international airline.
A union leader said at 11:50 a.m. that the noon strike deadline was being extended because of progress in contract negotiations with the airline.
The union's 13,000 members had been poised to strike at noon if contract terms had not been reached by then.
The union spokesman said progress at the morning bargaining sessions, during which union and management representatives met separately, prompted the union to put off the strike "on an hour by hour basis."
As the announcement was made, officials of the National Mediation Board were conferring with top union officials.
Reportedly, the federal mediators were presenting a new company position to the union negotiating team.
The AFL-CIO union represents 13,000 of the airline's 31,300 employees at terminals here and abroad. A strike by the mechanics, truck drivers, maintenance men, pursers and stewardesses would ground all of Pan Am's 360 daily flights.
It was reported that military flights to the far east and Viet Nam would be exempted from the strike.
Earlier today, a union negotiator, who did not identify himself, said Pan Am had made a new offer to the union.
He reported the offer as negotiations resumed at 9 a.m.
He said Pan Am called the offer "final." He said, "This is the third final offer from management."
The public relations officer for the union said he had no knowledge of the reported Pan Am offer.
The bargainers had talked for 19 hours, far into the morning hours, without any word of progress, then resumed the meeting after a four-hour sleep break.
"The outlook is dim," was the comment from a federal mediator during the recess.
A strike by 13,000 union members who service Pan Am's planes on a 90-nation network also could lead to the suspension of Pan Am's government-contracted airlift of military personnel to Viet Nam.
Pan American, the nation's largest international carrier, about 16,500 passengers on its normal daily schedule of 360 flights in 128 cities.
The dispute, called "most frustrating" by mediator C. Robert Roadley of the National Conference Board, centered around a 15 per cent wage increase over 2 1/2 years recommended by a presidential fact-finding panel.

His Family's Need Brought Him Parole

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Bruno T. Pepe, 31, of Wilmington, Del., walks out of the Lewisburg federal penitentiary today because of a judge's ruling that Pepe's family can't live without him.
U.S. District Judge Caleb M. Wright granted Pepe parole Wednesday from his 18-month prison term for a gambling violation after hearing this testimony:
— His 7-year-old son has refused to receive First Communion since Pepe was imprisoned on Sept. 9.
— His 9-year-old daughter is suffering from insomnia.
— His wife has become a "disorganized woman."
Mrs. Pepe, 30, also told the court the effect of her husband's imprisonment has been so severe on her family that three of their six children are undergoing psychiatric treatment.
Several witnesses supported her testimony, including the psychiatrist, Dr. James A. Fleeherty, who said Pepe must have been "an excellent father" and a man of "enormous love and warmth."
On Aug. 4, Pepe was sentenced to one year for evading the 10 per cent federal excise tax on approximately $5,400 in gambling income for June 1964.
He also was sentenced to concurrent six-month terms for failing to file an excise tax return and failing to register as a gambler with the Internal Revenue Service.

Ship Disaster
Probe Readied

20 Bodies Found;
8 Still Missing

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — With 20 bodies found, the Coast Guard today pressed its search for eight missing but almost certainly dead crewmen of the Daniel J. Morrell as a board of inquiry planned an investigation of some puzzling aspects of the tragedy.
In the worst Great Lakes disaster in eight years, the 603-foot ore carrier split apart and went to the bottom of Lake Huron early Tuesday during a gale that concealed her fate for 34 hours.
There was one survivor, Dennis Hale, 26, a deck watchman from Ashtabula, Ohio. Hale was asleep in his bunk when awakened by the battering that ripped the 12,500-ton Morrell in two.
Hale will be the only eyewitness before the board of inquiry appointed Thursday by Adm. William J. Smith, the Coast Guard commandant in Washington.
Among the puzzling aspects of the tragedy were these:
—The Coast Guard reported receiving no distress signal from the Morrell, which sank about two hours after it sent a routine message stating its position in the storm-lashed waters.
—Why did the 60-year-old Morrell go down when its sister ship, the E.Z. Townsend, also 60 years old, rode out the same storm in the same general area?

grams," said Edwards. "And they are modest programs."
"What we should take a good hard look at," he added, "is military spending. In 1965, expenditures totaled $96 billion and for this year they are talking about $126 billion. Nearly all that increase has gone into the defense budget. That's where the cuts should come, not in programs that would help all Americans."
The President also has said he hopes to reach a decision around the end of the year on whether to ask for a tax increase to help finance the Viet Nam war and cool off the economy.
If he decides to seek a tax hike he will have the support of a committee of business executives and educators. The 12-member program committee of the Committee on Economic Development called Thursday for a tax increase and spending cuts next year large enough to produce a $3 billion federal budget surplus.

Local Man Fined
In City Court

Bernard Davis, 21, of 1110 S. Washington St., was fined $135 by Circleville Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb Thursday on three counts filed by city police.
Davis was charged with destruction of city property, intoxication and abusing a police officer.
The latter charge was filed by Muri Campbell, Pickaway County Sheriff's deputy.
Judge Lamb suspended $85 of the fines and placed Davis on probation.

U.N. Hopes To Convince
U Thant To Serve Again

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., (AP) — The re-election of U.N. Secretary-General U Thant for a new five-year term was assured today when the Security Council gave its unanimous approval and sent its recommendation to the General Assembly for ratification later in the day.
The 15-nation council acted in a closed meeting after the 57-year-old Burmese diplomat had bowed to continued pressure and reversed his announced intention to retire.
One factor which influenced Thant's decision to take another term, diplomats said, was the assurances given by the big powers that he would have full authority to use his initiative in peace making. The council adopted a declaration reaffirming a charter provision stating that the secretary-general may call the council into session whenever he believes peace is threatened.
A meeting of the 121-nation assembly was called for 3 p.m. EST to formalize Thant's election and to fix the date for the expiration of his new term as Dec. 31, 1971. Approval was expected to be unanimous.
Thant passed the word among members last January that he was thinking of bowing out at the close of his first term, which expired Nov. 3.
He announced Sept. 1 that he had decided against a second term. But the wording of the announcement left members in doubt. When the General Assembly opened its policy debate three weeks later, a parade of foreign ministers and top delegates appealed to the Burmese diplomat to reconsider.
Thant, 57, made plain that he felt frustrated over failure to launch peace negotiations on Viet Nam and by the financial plight of the United Nations which has a peacekeeping deficit estimated at between $30 million and $50 million.
Just before his term expired one month ago, Thant agreed to stay on until the end of the assembly session, expected Dec. 20.

Kosygin called for the dissolution of military alliances in Europe repeating in another form an old Soviet offer to disband the Warsaw Pact alliance in return for the breakup of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.
This appeal was significant. President Charles de Gaulle has withdrawn his country from NATO's military organization and is in the process of expelling Allied troops and bases from France.
Kosygin, who made this City Hall statement after a two-hour meeting with De Gaulle at the presidential palace, said France and the Soviet Union, despite different social systems, were working together "to prevent the European Continent from becoming an arena for dangerous political and military adventures."
He said Franco-Soviet effort toward an East-West rapprochement "is finding greater and greater sympathy" in other countries. Should the rapprochement succeed, the danger of war would disappear, he added.
Kosygin was host at a state dinner Thursday at which De Gaulle called for a united Europe to include the Soviet Union and its Eastern bloc associates.

Marshal Zhukov
Once More Hero
On 70th Birthday

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, the Soviet Union's most famous World War II soldier, celebrated his 70th birthday today a national hero once more.
The government awarded him the Order of Lenin, its highest decoration, in honor of his birthday and in recognition of "his services to the armed forces of the Soviet Union."
Nikita Khrushchev dismissed Zhukov as defense minister in 1957 and confined him in oblivion.
But the new Kremlin leaders have allowed him to make public appearances, publish his memoirs and appear as himself in a film about the war.

Runnymede to Windsor, Via 18th Century, Ltd.

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP) — It was like being swept back 200 years into the stagecoaching days of gracious Georgian England.
Drawn by four prancing horses, a superbly preserved 18th century stagecoach rolled through England's green and winding—and asphalted—ways from historic Runnymede to ward historic Windsor.
—Eleven guests, bundled to their noses in huge warm coats on a cold day, perched on padded cushion seats atop the old coach, with magnificent views in all directions.
A postilion named Trevor, dressed in a gold-braided scarlet coat and leather leggings, tooted on a long brass coaching horn as we rumbled through each village.
Hundreds of villagers stared in astonishment.
Everything looked 18th century except one thing—the two shapely legs of miniskirted Jutta Morris of the British Travel Association, twin-limbed from beneath her heavy cloak.
“It's the most marvelous feeling in the world!” Jutta shouted above the wind. “Despite my, er, ah, skirt—I feel as if I'm back in another century!”
Commencing next May, Keith

Hancock and his associates will inaugurate three-day trips by stagecoach from Runnymede to Stratford on Avon.
Three days on an 18th century coach?
“Yes,” he said. “We'll do only an hour at a time on the coach. After every hour we get off, rest, sightsee, drink, eat and so on, and mind you only three hours of travel a day. You see, we do but 30 miles a day and the horses, with ease, do 10 miles an hour.”
And the charges?
“One hundred fifty dollars a person,” he said, “and this includes hotels along the way, all meals, teas, and for that matter, tips. We only ask that the visitor pay for his own drinks.”
In addition to 15 people on top of the coach, four or five more can be accommodated inside.
How did the idea take shape?
“Two years ago a pal and I hired a stagecoach and a helicopter for a trip to Bristol,” said Hancock. “The helicopter was for the quick trip and the coach was sort of gimmick.”
“Everyone loved the coach, though. They seemed to like it better than the helicopter and that gave us the idea.”
The organization is called 18th Century Travel, Ltd.

Snow Blanket Creates Ohio Road Hazards

Marion Reports Temperature of One Above Zero

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A snow blanket ranging from one to five inches lay over Ohio Friday, with winter taking its hardest swing at the northeastern area. Low temperatures and winds accompanying widely scattered snow squalls also featured the state's weather.
Most primary and secondary highways in the state were snow covered, or partly so, and slippery, making driving hazardous. But hundreds of state highway snow crews were out working on the roads and no road closings were reported.

The Ohio Turnpike was dry in the west, with a snow passing lane in the east and with a 40 m.p.h. speed limit posted from Exit 11 to the Pennsylvania line.
Coldest spot in the state was marked up at Marion — with 1 above. Mansfield had two above zero at 8 a.m. Dayton was listed at 8 degrees in the early morning, Cincinnati 15. Toledo 6, Findlay, 5. Cleveland 4, Akron 6, Youngstown 4, Columbus 10 and Zanesville 11.

Outlook Dim For Pan-Am Settlement

Union Postpones Strike Deadline On Hourly Basis

NEW YORK (AP) — The Transport Workers Union (TWU) agreed today to an hour-to-hour postponement of a strike that would ground Pan American World Airways, the nation's largest international airline.

A union leader said at 11:30 a.m. that the noon strike deadline was being extended because of progress in contract negotiations with the airline.

The union's 13,000 members had been poised to strike at noon if contract terms had not been reached by then.

The union spokesman said progress at the morning bargaining sessions, during which union and management representatives met separately, prompted the union to put off the strike “on an hour by hour basis.”

As the announcement was made, officials of the National Mediation Board were conferring with top union officials.

Reportedly, the federal mediators were presenting a new compromise position to the union negotiating team.

The AFL-CIO union represents 13,000 of the airline's 31,300 employees at terminals here and abroad. A strike by the mechanics, truck drivers, maintenance men, purser and stewardesses would ground all of Pan Am's 360 daily flights.

It was reported that military flights to the far east and Viet Nam would be exempted from the strike.

Earlier today, a union negotiator, who did not identify himself, said Pan Am had made a new offer to the union.

He reported the offer as negotiations resumed at 9 a.m. He said Pan Am called the offer “final.” He said, “This is the third final offer from management.”

The public relations officer for the union said he had no knowledge of the reported Pan Am offer.

The bargainers had talked for 19 hours, far into the morning hours, without any word of progress, then resumed the meeting after a four-hour sleep break.

“The outlook is dim,” was the comment from a federal mediator during the recess.

A strike by 13,000 union members who service Pan Am's planes on a 90-nation network also could lead to the suspension of Pan Am's government-contracted airlift of military personnel to Viet Nam.

Pan American, the nation's largest international carrier, about 15,500 passengers on its normal daily schedule of 360 flights in 128 cities.

The dispute, called “most frustrating” by mediator C. Robert Roadley of the National Conference Board, centered around a 15 per cent wage increase over 2½ years recommended by a presidential fact-finding panel.

Ship Disaster Probe Readied

20 Bodies Found; 8 Still Missing

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — With 20 bodies found, the Coast Guard today pressed its search for eight missing but almost certainly dead crewmen of the Daniel J. Morrell as a board of inquiry planned an investigation of some puzzling aspects of the tragedy.

In the worst Great Lakes disaster in eight years, the 603-foot ore carrier split apart and went to the bottom of Lake Huron early Tuesday during a gale that concealed her fate for 34 hours.

There was one survivor, Dennis Hale, 26, a deck watchman from Ashtabula, Ohio. Hale was asleep in his bunk when awakened by the battering that ripped the 12,500-ton Morrell in two.

Hale will be the only eyewitness before the board of inquiry appointed Thursday by Adm. William J. Smith, the Coast Guard commandant in Washington.

Among the puzzling aspects of the tragedy were these:

—The Coast Guard reported receiving no distress signal from the Morrell, which sank about two hours after it sent a routine message stating its position in the storm-lashed waters.

—Why did the 60-year-old Morrell go down when its sister ship, the E.Z. Townsend, also 60 years old, rode out the same storm in the same general area?

grams,” said Edwards. “And they are modest programs.”

“What we should take a good hard look at,” he added, “is military spending. In 1965, expenditures totaled $96 billion and for this year they are talking about $126 billion. Nearly all that increase has gone into the defense budget. That's where the cuts should come, not in programs that would help all Americans.”

The President also has said he hopes to reach a decision around the end of the year on whether to ask for a tax increase to help finance the Viet Nam war and cool off the economy.

If he decides to seek a tax hike he will have the support of a committee of business executives and educators. The 12-member program committee of the Committee on Economic Development called Thursday for a tax increase and spending cuts next year large enough to produce a $3 billion federal budget surplus.

Local Man Fined
In City Court
Bernard Davis, 21, of 1110 S. Washington St., was fined $135 by Circleville Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb Thursday on three counts filed by city police.

Davis was charged with destruction of city property, intoxication and abusing a police officer.

The latter charge was filed by Muri Campbell, Pickaway County Sheriff's deputy.

Judge Lamb suspended $85 of the fines and placed Davis on probation.

Applications are being accepted by the Columbus Post Office for positions of substitute clerk-carriers.

Starting salary is $2.64 per hour. No experience is necessary, but all applicants must take a written test.

U.N. Hopes To Convince U Thant To Serve Again

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The re-election of U.N. Secretary-General U Thant for a new five-year term was assured today when the Security Council gave its unanimous approval and sent its recommendation to the General Assembly for ratification later in the day.

The 15-nation council acted in a closed meeting after the 57-year-old Burmese diplomat had bowed to continued pressure and reversed his announced intention to retire.

Just before his term expired one month ago, Thant agreed to stay on until the end of the assembly session, expected Dec. 20.

This week the council launched a new appeal to Thant. The secretary-general agreed to postpone his final decision, set for Wednesday, for two days.

Some delegates expressed the view that Thant's decision may have been influenced by the improving financial situation. Japan announced Thursday that it was helping out with a voluntary contribution of $2.5 million. Britain already has contributed $10 million, Canada $4 million and Sweden, Denmark, Norway and Iceland $3,789,000.

The Soviet Union and France, the two principal debtors, have made no contributions, but reliable sources say they have indicated to Thant that they will do so soon.

Tax Exemption For Elderly To Be Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Tax Study Commission, says Chairman C. Stanley Mecham of Nelsonville, will give serious consideration to recommending to the 1967 legislature a “homestead exemption” to the elderly.

The commission, which completed a series of hearings on the state's tax problems this week, has discussed the plight of the retired person living on a fixed income as a “severe problem,” Mecham said.

One of the planks in Democratic Frazier Reams Jr.'s unsuccessful campaign for governor — would provide an exemption from real estate taxes. The percentages would vary with the retired person's income.

He states that such an exemption to retired persons with incomes of $3,000 or less, others have set the figure at $5,000.

High School Threatened By Explosion

CLEVELAND (AP)—About 3,250 students and 200 teachers were evacuated from Cleveland Heights High School Thursday because of a threat of a chemical explosion.

Assistant Principal Albert L. Daugherty said that reaction of chemicals stored in a metal container in a chemistry stock room posed the threat.

Firemen and service department employees ordered everyone out of the building, then carried out the metal box containing the chemicals.

The snow ranged from 5 inches at Cleveland, to 6 at Akron, 4 in Dayton, 4 in Mansfield, 5 in Youngstown, 4 in Zanesville and 5 in the Columbus area.

Partly sunny and colder today was the outlook for Central Ohio with lows of zero to five above predicted for tonight, followed Saturday by fair and cold weather. In the northwest area, continued cold with a few snow flurries.

A total of 13 persons have died shoveling snow since the first storm hit Monday night.

Total snow accumulation in Geauga County was 10 inches, including five inches from Thursday.

New bitter cold and snow pressed eastward into the northern Appalachians today, spreading frigid conditions across most of the northern states.

Sub-zero temperatures again embraced the Northern Plains. International Falls, Minn., had 11 below zero. In contrast, it was 65 in the early morning at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station, Texas.

Skies were clear across the southern part of the nation from Southern California to Florida.

A major storm in the Gulf of Alaska, packing winds up to 100 miles an hour, caused heavy damage to the little town of Valdez at the head of Prince William Sound, but no injuries were reported.

Rex Stout Belies His Age

By MARION E. PRILOOK
Danbury News-Times

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — It would take a considerable metamorphosis for spare, gray-haired, white-bearded author Rex Stout to become the over-weight, dark-haired, clean-shaven Nero Wolfe whose adventures in criminology have been the subject of 40 of Stout's published works.

In the first place, Nero Wolfe, despite 32 years of literary detecting, is ageless.

Rex Stout celebrates his 80th birthday today, and is marking the occasion by beginning a new Nero Wolfe story.

Writing the book will take the usual 39 days. Stout neither rewrites nor rewrites. Allowing for time out for the holidays, the book will be published, according to Stout, on May 9 or 10.

Both Stout and Nero Wolfe credit a good part of their success to logical thinking. Stout describes logical thinking as the ability to consider a problem without introducing the extraneous.

He ascribes this ability —

nero Wolfe's — to an arrangement "somewhere in my head."

He holds this same arrangement responsible for the fact that by the time he was 10, had read the 1,200 books in his parents' library.

His sister, author and gardening expert Ruth Stout, says Rex began to read when he was 18 months old.

"I rather doubt that," says Stout, "but I do remember that after I was 2, I started saving my money to buy my mother a gift. On my third birthday, I gave her a book."

Born in Noblesville, Ind., Dec. 1, 1886, Stout states unequivocally that he left Indiana "because I was fed up with Indiana politics." He grew up near Topeka, Kan.

His appearance belies statistics. He neither looks nor acts his 80 years.

He is keen and vital, and exudes a lusty masculinity.

Stout's biographical data says he has been, successively, an office boy, store clerk, bookkeeper, sailor, hotel manager, inventor of the school thrift system — adopted by schools in 432 cities in the United States — and author.

In addition to writing 54 books in the past 36 years, Stout was master of ceremonies for the "Speaking of Liberty" radio programs in 1941 and the "Voice of Freedom" programs in 1942.

Devotees of Nero Wolfe will find contradictions and similarities between the fictional Wolfe and the factual Stout.

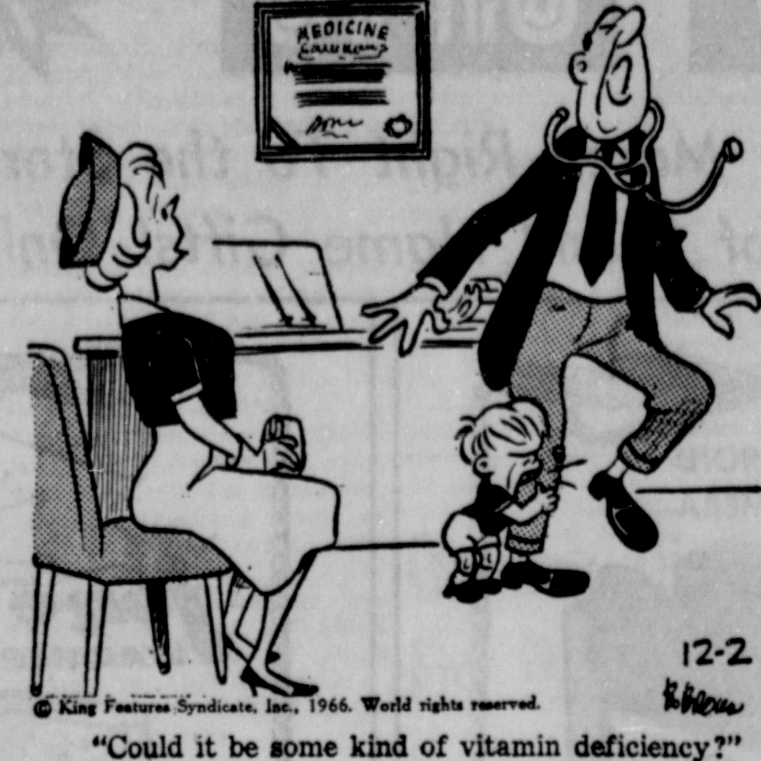

Does Stout, like Wolfe, admire orchids? "No. They are not my favorite flower," Stout grows 192 varieties of tall, bearded iris. He also grows numerous varieties of day lilies, vegetables and fruits.

Unlike Wolfe, Stout spends a great deal of time outdoors. In winter, he enjoys playing chess and tending his plants.

Like Wolfe, Stout enjoys good food and its preparation. He cooks dinner about three times a month at Highmeadow, the estate straddling Danbury and Brewster, N.Y., where he has lived for the past 36 years.

Stout's wife, Pola, is a textile designer. He has two married daughters.

The Business World

By John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP)—For many months, President Johnson took no fiscal action to correct economic imbalance despite urging from many quarters.

Now that he is acting, some of the same people who criticized him then are criticizing him now.

In the past couple of months, the inflationary fires have cooled some. Certain economists who favored tax increases aren't so sure anymore. And the political face of the nation has changed.

Johnson's first move was to suspend the 7 per cent investment tax credit that some economists said was making it too easy for business to continue spending. Such spending, they said, was inflationary.

This week, Johnson announced plans to cancel or delay $5.3 billion in federal programs for the present fiscal year, the purpose being to relieve inflationary pressure placed on the economy by heavy federal spending.

Johnson also moved in another direction. Because high interest rates and a money shortage were depressing the housing market, the President freed $250 million in funds to help finance mortgages of 15,000 new homes. Johnson says now he will decide by the end of the year whether to ask for an income tax increase.

Rallies and demonstrations being in vogue this year, Wall Street is talking now about having one of its own — a year-end rally. It may or may not come, for the market is not a faithful friend. However, stock prices usually rise in December.

Expectations of the year-end rally began invariably soon after the optimists gave up waiting for the late summer rally. It is a yearly event that ties in curiously with childhood expectations of gifts at Christmas.

There is to it, however, a sad aspect. Many of the bargains are nothing but somebody else's losses. Year-end selling is often for tax purposes — to establish losses that can be written off tax payments.

Forced to sell because their stocks have taken big losses during the year, the losers can depress prices even more. At this point the smart trader steps in to snap up bargains.

Several months ago one of the nation's largest builders forecast a drop in housing starts to an annual rate of 800,000 by early 1967. Since housing already was depressed at more than a million starts, the figure was difficult to believe. In October, however, the rate dropped to 848,000 — a 20-year low.

Try and Stop Me

GOOD EDITORS are difficult to find these days, but one publisher I know finally got fed up with a brilliant but temperamental aide and summoned him to his inner sanctum. "Young man," he declared, "I no longer care how good an editor you are. You've mislaid three manuscripts, fallen asleep twice, and last week you didn't come in at all. I've had just about all from you I can take."

The editor listened with a condescending smile, then patted the publisher on the arm. "Boss," he declared magnanimously, "I'm going to give you one more chance!"

On his ninetieth birthday, philosopher John Dewey was asked, "What good has all your thinking done you?" Dewey replied, "It's taught me to climb mountains." "So you climbed mountains," mocked the reporter. "What has THAT gotten you?" "I saw other mountains," smiled John Dewey. "And when you're no longer interested in climbing mountains to see other mountains, you might as well give up."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Why do some people suffer from earache when flying? After a flight from Anchorage to Juneau I was almost totally deaf for several hours. The pain was unbearable.

Can anything be done to prevent this from happening?

Mrs. E. C. R., Indiana
Dear Mrs. R.: As one who also suffers occasionally from this painful condition, I am most sympathetic.

Pain in the ear can occur on short or long flights, at low or even very high altitudes, at jet or at conventional speed.

The pain, deafness and stuffiness of the ear can happen to people who fly very rarely as well as to pilots who fly every day.

There is a small tube, the eustachian tube, which runs from the back of the nose to the middle ear. Under normal circumstances, there is a balance of air on either side of the eardrum. During a rapid ascent or descent, the changes of pressure affect the eardrum, and produce the pain.

In well-pressurized airplanes, this unpleasant feeling occurs much less frequently than it used to.

The condition is more likely to occur if a person flies during the early stages of a cold, with nasal congestion and a running nose.

Some people seem to benefit from this simple suggestion: Before the plane takes off, spray the nose two or three times with any ordinary nasal medication.

On a long flight of three or more hours, this can be repeated in the plane, and once again about a half hour before the plane lands.

In addition, it is helpful to chew or swallow during ascent and descent in order to help open the eustachian tube.

Regardless of what kind of diet pills my doctor gives me, I still have a severe weight problem.

It sets my nerves on edge, and even interferes with my sleep. Is there any new pill that once and for all can help me with this terrible problem?

Miss V. K., New York
Dear Miss K.: It must soon become evident that there are just no miracles or tricks to losing weight and keeping it off.

It is only rare that there is a real medical or physical cause for overweight. In those cases where there is a known hormone or other organic condition, the remedy depends on finding the exact cause.

But almost always the cause of overweight is overeating. And in many instances, the cause of overeating is some emotional need that is otherwise unsatisfied.

The fact that new diet gimmicks are constantly replacing old ones merely means that no gimmick or fad can substitute for the only truly dependable method of taking off weight and keeping it off . . . And that is, that if you eat more calories than your body uses up for fuel you will gain weight.

On the other hand, if you consume fewer calories than your body requires for daily fuel, then you will lose weight.

Keep a record of your children's vaccinations and sensitivity to drugs.

Danbury News-Times

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — It would take a considerable metamorphosis for spare, gray-haired, white-bearded author Rex Stout to become the overweight, dark-haired, clean-shaven Nero Wolfe whose adventures in criminology have been the subject of 40 of Stout's published works.

In the first place, Nero Wolfe, despite 32 years of literary detecting, is ageless.

Rex Stout celebrates his 80th birthday today, and is marking the occasion by beginning a new Nero Wolfe story.

Writing the book will take the usual 39 days. Stout neither rewrites nor rewrites. Allowing for time out for the holidays, the book will be published, according to Stout, on May 9 or 10.

Both Stout and Nero Wolfe credit a good part of their success to logical thinking. Stout describes logical thinking as the ability to consider a problem without introducing the extraneous.

He ascribes this ability —

nero Wolfe's — to an arrangement "somewhere in my head."

He holds this same arrangement responsible for the fact that by the time he was 10, had read the 1,200 books in his parents' library.

His sister, author and gardening expert Ruth Stout, says Rex began to read when he was 18 months old.

"I rather doubt that," says Stout, "but I do remember that after I was 2, I started saving my money to buy my mother a gift. On my third birthday, I gave her a book."

Born in Noblesville, Ind., Dec. 1, 1886, Stout states unequivocally that he left Indiana "because I was fed up with Indiana politics." He grew up near Topeka, Kan.

His appearance belies statistics. He neither looks nor acts his 80 years.

He is keen and vital, and exudes a lusty masculinity.

Stout's biographical data says he has been, successively, an office boy, store clerk, bookkeeper, sailor, hotel manager, inventor of the school thrift system — adopted by schools in 432 cities in the United States — and author.

In addition to writing 54 books in the past 36 years, Stout was master of ceremonies for the "Speaking of Liberty" radio programs in 1941 and the "Voice of Freedom" programs in 1942.

Devotees of Nero Wolfe will find contradictions and similarities between the fictional Wolfe and the factual Stout.

Does Stout, like Wolfe, admire orchids? "No. They are not my favorite flower," Stout grows 192 varieties of tall, bearded iris. He also grows numerous varieties of day lilies, vegetables and fruits.

Unlike Wolfe, Stout spends a great deal of time outdoors. In Winter, he enjoys playing chess and tending his plants.

Like Wolfe, Stout enjoys good food and its preparation. He cooks dinner about three times a month at Highmeadow, the estate straddling Danbury and Brewster, N.Y., where he has lived for the past 36 years.

Stout's wife, Pola, is a textile designer. He has two married daughters.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—For many months, President Johnson took no fiscal action to correct economic imbalance despite urgings from many quarters.

Now that he is acting, some of the same people who criticized him then are criticizing him now.

In the past couple of months, the inflationary fires have cooled some. Certain economists who favored tax increases aren't so sure anymore. And the political face of the nation has changed.

Johnson's first move was to suspend the 7 per cent investment tax credit that some economists said was making it too easy for business to continue spending. Such spending, they said, was inflationary.

This week, Johnson announced plans to cancel or delay $5.3 billion in federal programs for the present fiscal year, the purpose being to relieve inflationary pressure placed on the economy by heavy federal spending.

Johnson also moved in another direction. Because high interest rates and a money shortage were depressing the housing market, the President freed $250 million in funds to help finance mortgages of 15,000 new homes.

Johnson says now he will decide by the end of the year whether to ask for an income tax increase.

Rallies and demonstrations being in vogue this year, Wall Street is talking now about having one of its own — a year-end rally. It may or may not come.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

Why do some people suffer from earache when flying? After a flight from Anchorage to Juneau I was almost totally deaf for several hours. The pain was unbearable.

Can anything be done to prevent this from happening?

Mrs. E. C. R., Indiana

Dear Mrs. R.: As one who also suffers occasionally from this painful condition, I am most sympathetic.

Pain in the ear can occur on short or long flights, at low or even very high altitudes, at jet or at conventional speed.

The pain, deafness and stuffiness of the ear can happen to people who fly very rarely as well as to pilots who fly every day.

There is a small tube, the eustachian tube, which runs from the back of the nose to the middle ear. Under normal circumstances, there is a balance of air on either side of the eardrum. During a rapid ascent or descent, the changes of pressure affect the eardrum, and produce the pain.

In well-pressurized airplanes, this unpleasant feeling occurs much less frequently than it used to.

The condition is more likely to occur if a person flies during the early stages of a cold, with nasal congestion and a running nose.

Some people seem to benefit from this simple suggestion: Before the plane takes off, spray the nose two or three times with any ordinary nasal medication.

On a long flight of three or more hours, this can be repeated in the plane, and once again about a half hour before the plane lands.

In addition, it is helpful to chew or swallow during ascent and descent in order to help open the eustachian tube.

Regardless of what kind of diet pills my doctor gives me, I still have a severe weight problem.

It sets my nerves on edge, and even interferes with my sleep. Is there any new pill that once and for all can help me with this terrible problem?

Miss V. K., New York

Dear Miss K.: It must soon become evident that there are just no miracles or tricks to losing weight and keeping it off. It is only rare that there is a real medical or physical cause for overweight. In those cases where there is a known hormone or other organic condition, the remedy depends on finding the exact cause.

But almost always the cause of overweight is overeating. And in many instances, the cause of overeating is some emotional need that is otherwise unsatisfied.

The fact that new diet gimmicks are constantly replacing old ones merely means that no gimmick or fad can substitute for the only truly dependable method of taking off weight and keeping it off . . . And that is, that if you eat more calories than your body uses up for fuel you will gain weight.

On the other hand, if you consume fewer calories than your body requires for daily fuel, then you will lose weight.

Keep a record of your children's vaccinations and sensitivity to drugs.

Try and Stop Me
By BENNETT CERF

GOOD EDITORS are difficult to find these days, but one publisher I know finally got fed up with a brilliant but temperamental aide and summoned him to his inner sanctum. "Young man," he declared, "I no longer care how good an editor you are. You've mislaid three manuscripts, fallen asleep twice, and last week you didn't come in at all. I've had just about all from you I can take."

The editor listened with a condescending smile, then patted the publisher on the arm. "Boss," he declared magnanimously, "I'm going to give you one more chance!"

On his ninetieth birthday, philosopher John Dewey was asked, "What good has all your thinking done you?" Dewey replied, "It's taught me to climb mountains." "So you climbed mountains," mocked the reporter. "What has THAT gotten you?" "I saw other mountains," smiled John Dewey. "And when you're no longer interested in climbing mountains to see other mountains, you might as well give up."

OVERHEARD:
At the Stock Exchange Luncheon Club: "I've left my wife. She got too friendly with her friend at Chase Manhattan."
At the supermarket: "Goodness, Pamela, I've got to get home. I've got a stew on the stove."
"Golly, that ought to cure him!"

Mrs. Huber's Book Review
Based on Appalachia Area

Mrs. William Huber reviewed two books concerning the people of the Appalachian area when the Monday Club met in the Lutheran Education Building.

"Many do not know," Mrs. Huber stated, "that many of the people who came to the Southern mountain regions before 1750 were depressed people in the beginning, since they were brought to this country from the cities of England to supply cheap labor for the plantation owners of the South."

According to Harry M. Caudill in his book "Night Comes to the Cumberlands," when these people became free from their bondage, after having worked to pay their transportation costs or after having run away from the planters, they moved on into the mountains. There they learned much from the Indians and fought like the Indians against the British

Dear Abby: Give the Plain Jane a Chance

DEAR ABBY: With the school social season just commencing, you would be doing a real service to remind girls not to pass up a boy just because he's short. Thru high school and college a truly wonderful fellow tried many times to date me. He was bright, well-liked, kind, and had a great sense of humor, but he had one "fault." He was shorter than I. So I never went out with him. Well, I married one of the big, braveny athletic stars. He's conceited, lazy, and dumb. We live from hand to mouth.

The short fellow is now a very successful professional man, admired and respected by all. He married a beautiful girl who positively adores him. She's half-a-head taller than he is, but nobody seems to notice. She lives in luxury and has status and security. Every time I see her I think, "There but for my asinine childishness go I." Print this. Many girls can learn from it.

MISSED THE BOAT

DEAR MISSED: And speaking of boats that have been missed, let's look at the guys who've left themselves on the dock.

Why Do YOU Spend So Much MONEY?

Housewives in Pickaway County are finding the high cost of living much the same as elsewhere in the U.S. It's hard to stay within the family budget and still buy the same food commodities as they did five to ten years ago.

The average family of four will spend from $25.00 to $35.00 per week for groceries. If we were to break this down we would find that from $3.00 to $5.00 would be for taxable items. Now normally we don't eat taxable items! If we did our diet would consist of the following:

1. Laundry Soaps	5. Bleaches	9. Dish Detergents
2. Laundry Detergents	6. Cleaning Abrasives	10. Shampoos
3. Fabric Softeners	7. Bubble Bath	11. Hair Rinses
4. Powdered Water Softeners	8. Hand Soaps	12. Shaving Soap

At $3.00 per week we'll say for an average you will spend $13.00 per month, $156.00 a year or $1560.00 in ten years!

I don't claim to have all the answers for saving you money but there is one answer I'm sure of: We can save you from $8.00 to $10.00 per month on these taxable items by installing a LINDSAY WATER CONDITIONER! 30% of your taxable items can be saved!

Mrs. Huber's Book Review Based on Appalachia Area

Mrs. William Huber reviewed two books concerning the people of the Appalachian area when the Monday Club met in the Lutheran Education Building.

"Many do not know," Mrs. Huber stated, "that many of the people who came to the Southern mountain regions before 1750 were depressed people in the beginning, since they were brought to this country to supply cheap labor for the plantation owners of the South."

According to Harry M. Caudill in his book "Night Comes to the Cumberlands," when these people became free from their bondage, after having worked to pay their transportation costs or after having run away from the planters, they moved on into the mountains. There they learned much from the Indians and fought like the Indians against the British during the Revolution.

Mrs. Huber said their love of freedom bordered on license, and they remained in the mountains to keep away from the advancing influences of civilization. Even today, the Appalachian mountaineer's sense of independence makes him unable to work well with anyone else to plan for the good of all.

Since these early mountain people came from cities, Mrs. Huber declared, they learned farming from the Indians and as a result their products from farming were slim, and they did not keep their lands fertile and usable. Furthermore these mountain peoples were practically robbed of their vast resources of coal and timber by outsiders who leased their lands paying only a fraction of their real value.

From 1912 to 1927 she said it came the Golden Age of the coal industries, but since then, except for a boom during World War II, the direction continues down. There is not alone the erosion of natural resources but an erosion of spirit, morale, and morals.

Mrs. Huber concluded that these people, who are called "Yesterday's People" in Jack E. Weller's book must be enabled to cope with today's complicated and structured living. He said ways and means must be found to help the Appalachian mountaineer open his life toward the future.

Proposed Site Of Institution Arouses Protest

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) — A community group has voiced objection to state plans to build a $1 million medium security institution for delinquent boys near here.

Officials of the Ohio Youth Commission discussed plans for the institution with members of Property Owners and Voters Association at a public hearing Wednesday night.

Commission representatives said the site on Central State University land is ideal, but property owners objected, saying it would have an adverse effect on a nearby housing development, causing devaluation of their homes.

The state has proposed building the correctional institution to house 120 boys on a 100 acre site of the university farm, east of Ohio 42.

Dear Abby: Give the Plain Jane a Chance

DEAR ABBY: With the school social season just commencing, you would be doing a real service to remind girls not to pass up a boy just because he's short. Thru high school and college a truly wonderful fellow tried many times to date me. He was bright, well-liked, kind, and had a great sense of humor, but he had one "fault." He was shorter than I. So I never went out with him. Well, I married one of the big, brawny athletic stars. He's conceited, lazy, and dumb. We live from hand to mouth.

The short fellow is now a very successful professional man, admired and respected by all. He married a beautiful girl who positively adores him. She's half-a-head taller than he is, but nobody seems to notice. She lives in luxury and has status and security. Every time I see her I think, "There but for my asinine childishness go!" Print this. Many girls can learn from it.

MISS THE BOAT
DEAR MISSED: And speaking of boats that have been missed, let's look at the guys who've left themselves on the dock.

The class decided to give a basket to a needy family at Christmas time. Cressie Hall and Gladys Noggle will serve on this project.

Lucille Kirkwood sang a song and Mr. Kirkwood closed with a prayer.

Refreshments were served buffet style to 10 visitors and 12 members.

OFT Demands $1,500 Raises, Free Tuition

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Federation of Teachers called on the legislature Thursday to find more money for schools, including a $1,500 a year pay raise.

The AFL-CIO labor organization urged "all possible means of finding additional revenues for Ohio schools, including a graduate net income tax."

The federation's legislative program, announced as the rival Ohio Education Association met to act on its legislative proposals, also urged that school boards be permitted to enter into formal contracts with unions and that any Ohio teacher be given free tuition at any state university. Neither is permitted by law now.

Interfaith Dialogue Makes Rather Modest Progress

TORONTO (AP) — Four years ago the Toronto Diocese of the Anglican Church gave one of its priests a new job: Get Anglicans and Jews talking together.

The Rev. Ronald de Corneille, who got the job, has been talking ever since, almost with missionary zeal, although that probably is the description he'd like least since he has taken great pains to emphasize the absence of any conversion motives.

Even so, some Toronto Jews aren't convinced; others are reserved; some see hope in the program for a better interfaith understanding. Father de Corneille isn't dismayed.

"After 2,000 years of persecution," he tells his Anglican study groups, "can anyone blame them for being suspicious?"

He has already brought thousands of Christians and Jews together for talks in what he calls "this new relationship."

And while there are some Anglicans as well as Jews who doubt the program's chances of success, it has been something of a pacesetter as far as the Church generally is concerned.

So much so that Father de Corneille's just-published book, "Christians and Jews: Dialogue," will be used by the National Council of Churches, representing the major non-Roman Catholic faiths in the United States, for interfaith conversations there. The program also has attracted attention in Europe.

Father de Corneille, 39, is a native of Switzerland whose father was at one time Protestant chaplain-general of the French army.

"Christians and Jews: Dialogue" sets out the guidelines Father de Corneille uses in his study sessions with Anglican lay groups.

How do the Jews feel about it? Four Toronto rabbis were reserved about the project when it ment of God, and hold fast the tradition of men . . . If you would enter life, keep the commandments . . . Instead of giving heed to . . . myths or to commands of men who reject the truth . . . repent, and believe in the gospel."

Army Teaches 'Quick-Kill'

FT. MONROE, Va. (AP) — The Army is teaching soldiers to shoot from the hip here, to perfect a new "quick-kill" technique.

An Army spokesman said the object is to eliminate aiming through a weapon sight — a time-consuming maneuver during close-in fighting. Instead, soldiers using BB guns — as training aids only — learn to shoot from the waist, aiming over their arm.

The Army said it is using the BB guns since both the weapon and the ammunition are cheaper than standard issue rifles.

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

"I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting him who called you in the grace of Christ and turning to a different gospel — not that there is another gospel, but there are some who trouble you and want to pervert the gospel of Christ... preaching to you a gospel... contrary to that which we preached to you..."

"...there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies;... ungodly persons who pervert the grace of our God... and because of them the way of truth will be reviled... Forsaking the right way they have gone astray... In vain do they worship me, teaching as doctrines the precepts of men..."

"They profess to know God, but they deny him by their deeds... He who says, 'I know him' but disobeys his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him;... for whoever keeps the whole law but fails in one point has become guilty of all of it... Whoever then relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven..."

FOR PREVENTION OR HEALING... CALL A DOCTOR

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Johnny's sick!" The words strike fear in your heart, although your child's name may be Mary, Jane, or Bob. You put him to bed and call the doctor. You give him medicine and nurse him tenderly.

It is easy to tell when your child is not well — physically, that is. And it is comparatively easy to provide whatever is necessary to heal him. But do you feel as much concern for his soul?

Perhaps you have not noticed symptoms of spiritual indisposition. Perhaps you have thoughtlessly disregarded his spiritual needs. Yet his body is only temporal. His soul will live on — and on — and on!

Your Church is like a doctor — ready to heal illnesses of the spirit, but even more eager to prevent them.

Attend Church regularly with all your family for spiritual check-ups, just as you call on your family physician for physical care.

Army Teaches 'Quick-Kill'

FT. MONROE, Va. (AP) — The Army is teaching soldiers to shoot from the hip here, to perfect a new "quick-kill" technique.

An Army spokesman said the object is to eliminate aiming through a weapon sight — a time-consuming maneuver during close-in fighting. Instead, soldiers using BB guns — as training aids only — learn to shoot from the waist, aiming over their arm.

The Army said it is using the BB guns since both the weapon and the ammunition are cheaper than standard issue rifles.

Prophecies of Peace

ISAIAH'S MESSIANIC PROPHECIES

Scripture—Isaiah 9:2-7; 11:1-9.

By R. H. RAMSEY

ISAIAH is, without a doubt, the greatest of the Old Testament prophets. He left an abundance of sermons and prophecies inscribed on scrolls; he was a man of great intellectual stature, of high standing in the king's court, and influential among the people. He had a penetrating insight into the nature of spiritual problems and God used him well as a proclaimer of divine truth.

Deeply conscious of the stupid and cruel mistakes men made when they went to war with one another, Isaiah was constantly holding the ideal of peace before his people and proclaiming it as God's will.

Chapter 9 opens with Isaiah's prophecy of hope and a promise of light, in that future time when the Messiah would come, bringing light to a darkened Israel and bringing her abundant joy before the Lord and salvation from her enemies. Next, Isaiah reiterates and expands his Messianic prophecy of Chapter 7. He sees the Son of the virgin who would come to maturity in troubled times as already born and taking possession of the government. Then follow five remarkable titles given to this predicted Son: Wonderful, Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father and Prince of Peace, all of which identify Him as nothing less than a divine person.

"Wonderful" indicates a Person exalted above the ordinary course of nature. One whose whole manifestation will be a miracle; "Counselor" indicates an infallible Guide for men's lives; "Mighty God" indicates One participating in the very nature of God; "Everlasting Father" indicates a faithful, wise guardian and provider for His people; "Prince of Peace" indicates One who removes all peace-disturbing powers from the earth and secures peace among all nations.

The last assigned verse of Chapter 9 returns us to the idea of the universal kingdom of the Messiah. His government will be righteous, just and everlasting. It will be a government set up by God, ruled by a king ap-

This Deliverer, when he came, would fulfill mankind's hopes for peace and security. He would be endowed with wisdom, understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and the fear of the Lord. He would have all the practical qualities of a good ruler, judging not by the eye and ear alone, but with an inner knowledge of all circumstances and motives. He would be righteousness incarnate, and all His judgments would be according to His character. He would assure the poor and meek of their rights, but His words would be neither soft nor sentimental; rather they would be far sharper than any two-edged sword in chastising the wicked.

When the long-awaited Messiah arrived, even the world of nature would be changed. So complete would be the world's redemption that even animals which previously preyed upon one another would live in peace. No more should there be hurt and destruction in the world. Peace would prevail, and full knowledge of God would be universal.

YOUR MONEY

By CHET MCKENZIE

One of the most important changes in the history of the savings and loan association came with the introduction of the "savings members' idea. In the earliest associations, members only contributed their savings, and the same members were the only loan borrowers. No one else was involved.

As savings and loan associations flourished, it became clear that more people needed loans than the savings of the limited membership could make possible. Since there were a lot of people who saw the wisdom of regular savings, along with earning substantial interest, the "savings members' idea came into being. These were people who were not joining the association with the purpose of a future loan, but simply to save. Soon savings and loan associations were making loans to non-members, too. From then on the scope of the associations widened.

Today you, like so many thousands of others, will find our association a better place for your savings, where you'll earn the highest return with insured safety and extra convenience.

YOUR MONEY

By CHET McKENZIE

One of the most important changes in the history of the savings and loan association came with the introduction of the "savings membership" idea. In the earliest associations, members only contributed their savings, and the same members were the only loan borrowers. No one else was involved.

As savings and loan associations flourished, it became clear that more people needed loans than the savings of the limited membership could make possible. Since there were a lot of people who saw the wisdom of regular savings, along with earning substantial interest, the "savings members" idea came into being. These were people who were not joining the association with the purpose of a future loan, but simply to save. Soon savings and loan associations were making loans to non-members, too. From then on the scope of the associations widened.

Today you, like so many thousands of others, will find our association a better place for your savings, where you'll earn the highest return with insured safety and extra convenience.

Bond Issues And Levies Are Defined

By HERB AMEY

Here is a simple quiz that will test your knowledge of civic responsibilities.

What is the difference between a school bond issue and an operating levy? If you answered "none," you are 100 per cent wrong. If you said that a bond issue was for raising schools and an operating levy was for operating them, you deserve only half credit.

A true difference is that a bond issue, while being used for construction of new classrooms, is appropriated only for building purposes. Money through these portals cannot be used to pay light bills or hire new cooks; it's only for the actual construction and landscaping.

An operating levy, on the other hand, is used for the operation and controlled maintenance of the schools. After the school is built, all the money it takes to run it comes from this levy.

The current operating expense in the Circleville system is 16.5 mills, or roughly $16.50 per thousand dollars of appraised property value. This rate, which ranks 151st of 161 school districts in Ohio, has not increased in five years.

The school board of Circleville appealed to the voters last November to increase the operating levy by 3.5 mills. This would bring the total collections to $21 for every thousand dollars. This proposal was turned down with 57.4 per cent of the votes against the increase. An appeal for a special election was made and granted. Voters will return to the polls on Dec. 13, to decide the operating levy.

A defeat could bring about numerous curtailments of school activities, many in the junior high areas.

Defeat of the issue could also mean less possibility to attract and retain teaching personnel.

If the issue passes on the return ballot it would provide an improved salary schedule for teachers and employees; continue operation of complete programs and return recent improvements to the curriculum, funds for increased operational costs due to rising prices as related to supplies and utilities; and funds for additional teachers needed each year for additional enrollment.

CHS Majorettes Are Happy To Lead Marching Band

By THERESA JONES AND SUSAN BRUNGS

The four girls who march in front of the CHS Band deserve much more credit than they receive.

The leader is drum majorette Linda Rhymer, daughter of Mr. Charles Rhymer, 1239 S. Pickaway St. She has one sister, Diane, 19, who is now an employee at General Electric Co.

Linda is a senior enrolled in the college preparatory course. She attends EUB Church. She is a member of the SOS and GAA. Her favorite teacher is Paul Langland, and her favorite subject is home economics.

Among her likes are a boy, a certain green hornet, being a senior, skating, rolling houses, long hair, scalloped oysters, Indian Lake and the record "My Little Black Egg." Among her dislikes are conceited people, hospitals, late bus drivers, government test, exams, and having to wear rollers under her drum majorette hat. Her hobbies are cooking and playing her organ.

Girls Get Phys Ed Uniforms

By SUSAN BRUNGS

There is a new look in the girls' phys ed classes these days.

The girls are now wearing their new gym suits which they received this week. The uniforms are a bright blue, one-piece suit with no sleeves and bermuda length legs. These suits give the classes a more unified look. Mrs. Mignerey, the phys ed instructor, ordered about 200 uniforms and distributed them to the girls purchasing the uniforms. The suits which cost $3.90 are now required in all gym classes.

"I think they are tuff," and "They look much better and nicer," are just a few of the comments that the girls made concerning the new gym suits. Of course there are some girls who might not like them as much as others, but in general, most of the girls approve of the uniforms.

When asked what she thought of the new outfits, Mrs. Mignerey replied, "I like them. I think the girls look much neater in them than the sloppy white blouses and tight shorts they used to wear."

I have a copy of your page of Friday, Nov. 11, 1966. On this page is an article entitled "Where Are '66 Grads?" Not only have several people that I know of have been omitted, but several have been placed going to the wrong schools.

By DENISE JACKSON

The journalism class would like to introduce Greg Withers, a new student at CHS.

Greg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Withers. He resides at 1046 Lynwood Avenue with his parents, two brothers, Scott and Eric, one, and a sister Allison who is four.

Greg is 17 and a senior enrolled in the college preparatory course. He likes sports, hearing Coach Starr saying something good about him, Roger Miller, pizza, folk songs, and Confederate flags. Among his dislikes are government term papers, crew cuts, and the Red Baron always shooting Snoopy down.

Before coming to CHS, Greg attended Clintwood High School in Clintwood, Virginia. Greg has this to say about CHS, "undoubtedly this is the finest school I've ever gone to and the teachers all seem to know what they're talking about. The kids here at CHS are friendly and go out of their way to help new students, and I really needed help at the first of the year."

CHS Majorettes Are Happy To Lead Marching Band

By THERESA JONES and SUSAN BRUNGS

The four girls who march in front of the CHS Band deserve much more credit than they receive.

The leader is drum majorette Linda Rhymer, daughter of Mr. Charles Rhymer, 1239 S. Pickaway St. She has one sister, Diane, 19, who is now an employee at General Electric Co.

Linda is a senior enrolled in the college preparatory course. She attends EUB Church. She is a member of the SOS and GAA. Her favorite teacher is Paul Langland, and her favorite subject is home economics.

Among her likes are a boy, a certain green hornet, being a senior, skating, rolling houses, long hair, scalloped oysters, Indian Lake and the record "My Little Black Egg." Among her dislikes are conceited people, hospitals, late bus drivers, government test, exams, and having to wear rollers under her drum majorette hat. Her hobbies are cooking and playing her organ.

When asked how it feels to be drum majorette, Linda replied, "I feel it is a great honor and a big responsibility to fulfill. I have found it a lot of fun leading the band in public performances and I wish the girl I hand it down to the best of luck." During concert season Linda plays the saxophone.

Linda's future plans is to attend Merle Norman Cosmetology Studio.

One of the high stepping majorettes this year is Beverly Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Thompson, 515 E. Mound St.

Beverly, 15, is a sophomore enrolled in the college preparatory course. She attends St. Joseph Church. Beverly is vice president of the SOS and is in intramurals. During concert season she plays the clarinet.

Beverly's likes are boys, pizza, Andy (her cat), basketball, baseball, Spanish and phys ed. Her dislikes are rainy days, homework, study halls, and having to write journal entries. Her favorite teacher is Dave Beavers.

When asked how it feels to be a majorette, she replied: "It's a great honor to be a majorette, but it takes a lot of work."

Beverly's hobby is sewing. Nancy Benzenburg is head majorette at CHS. She is 15 years old and is a sophomore who is taking the college prep course. She resides at 526 Northridge Road with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Varble.

Nancy has two brothers, Craig and Jack, and a sister, Linda. Being a majorette isn't Nancy's only activity. She belongs to the Sophomore SOS, EMS, and the Lutheran League. Her hobbies are the ballet, piano and swimming.

Among her dislikes are Mondays, quizzes, moody people and nothing to do on weekends. Among some of the things she does like are cool guys that like to have a lot of fun, letters, Fridays and dancing.

When asked how she felt about being a majorette Nancy replied, "It's a lot of fun and I got a lot of experience from it. I also met a lot of wonderful people and got cold quite a lot."

Brenda Thompson is also a majorette at CHS. She is a 15-year-old sophomore who is taking a commercial course in high school. At present she is living with her grandmother, Mrs. Emma Thompson, 633 E. Ave. She will be staying with her grandmother until the end of this school year. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. James D. Thompson of 120 Logan Elm Boulevard. Brenda has two elder sisters Joyce and Linda and a younger brother, Tim.

When asked what she disliked Brenda said that she didn't like homework. Bob and math are among two of the things Brenda likes.

Brenda goes to the EUB Church and is a member of SOS, GAA and the EMS. Trying to play the bassoon is her hobby.

"Great! I think it is a lot of fun. I have really enjoyed it this year," said Brenda when we inquired as to what she thought of being a majorette.

Bond Issues And Levies Are Defined

By HERB AMEY

Here is a simple quiz that will test your knowledge of civic responsibilities.

What is the difference between a school bond issue and an operating levy? If you answered "none", you are 100 per cent wrong. If you said that a bond issue was for raising schools and an operating levy was for operating them, you deserve only half credit.

A true difference is that a bond issue, while being used for construction of new classrooms, is appropriated only for building purposes. Money through these portals cannot be used to pay light bills or hire new cooks; it's only for the actual construction and landscaping.

An operating levy, on the other hand, is used for the operation and controlled maintenance of the schools. After the school is built, all the money it takes to run it comes from this levy.

The current operating expense in the Circleville system is 16.5 mills, or roughly $16.50 per thousand dollars of appraised property value. This rate, which ranks 151st of 161 school districts in Ohio, has not increased in five years.

The school board of Circleville appealed to the voters last November to increase the operating levy by 3.5 mills. This would bring the total collections to $24 for every thousand dollars. This proposal was turned down with 57.4 per cent of the votes against the increase. An appeal for a special election was made and granted. Voters will return to the polls on Dec. 13, to decide the operating levy.

A defeat could bring about numerous curtailments of school activities, many in the junior high areas.

Defeat of the issue could also mean less possibility to attract and retain teaching personnel.

If the issue passes on the return ballot it would provide an improved salary schedule for teachers and employees; continued operation of complete programs and return recent improvements to the curriculum, funds for increased operational costs due to rising prices as related to supplies and utilities; and funds for additional teachers needed each year for additional enrollment.

'In' & 'Out'

By CHRIS BUSKIRK

Are you "in"? This is a big question asked in many teenage magazines. Here are just a few examples of what's "in" and what's "out."

New dances — The Philey, D. C. Philey, The Skate.

Clothes — mini skirts, wild socks with decorations of stripes and polka-dots, levis with cuffs for girls, slacks with stove pipe legs.

Earrings that can hang anywhere from your chin to your shoulders, painting freckles on your face to match your dress painting flowers on your knees to match your blouse or skirt.

Things that are "Out"—Skirts to the knees, white socks, textured — nylons, tennis shoes, men's pants with cuffs, maltese crosses, curly hair, and long hair on boys.

There are 13 school days left until Christmas vacation.

Winners in Super Bowl To Draw $250 Per Minute

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — Each player on the team winning the professional football championship may receive a bonanza of $23,000, a record for a team sport.

The pay for two games would almost double the all-time high of $12,794 for a baseball World Series winner for a minimum of four games. The Los Angeles Dodgers of 1963 hold the baseball record.

When the National Football League winners meet in the first Super Bowl at the 93,000-capacity Los Angeles Coliseum in early January, each winner will get a guaranteed $15,000 and each loser $7,500. That breaks down to $250 a minute for each of the winners.

If the NFL game is played in the big Cotton Bowl in Dallas, a strong possibility, the winning share should match the record of $652 by Cleveland for beating Baltimore in 1964. The AFL share would be smaller but the league set an all-time high a year ago when each Buffalo Bill got $5,189.

The mechanics of the Super Bowl game were announced Thursday night by Commissioner Pete Rozelle after both leagues accepted unanimously the recommendations of a joint committee.

"The weekend of Jan. 7-8 or the weekend of Jan. 15 are the likely dates," said Rozelle. "We are not able to announce a definite date at this time until we have talked more to the television people."

Rozelle said he would talk with all TV networks and hoped to settle the matter soon. NFL games are carried by CBS and AFL games by NBC.

It is possible that the new league title games will be played on the same day, Sunday, Jan. 1 as part of a unique doubleheader, starting in Buffalo or Boston and ending in Dallas or St. Louis.

As of now, the AFL game is to be played Monday, Dec. 26 in the home park of the Eastern Division winner. The NFL game is to be played Sunday, Jan. 1 in the home park of the Eastern Conference champ. It is expected the AFL date will be moved up to avoid a long layoff before the Super Bowl.

The Super Bowl agreement was for one year only, subject to review.

Although the AFL uses the two-point conversion rule and the NFL the one-point, there will be no two-point conversions in the Super Bowl. However, it will be tried in preseason exhibitions between the two leagues next summer.

The NFL also decided to stock the new franchise at New Orleans in the same manner as the Atlanta club was manned last winter. Each team, except Atlanta, will give up three players. Although no owner has been named for the new franchise and no price set for the franchise, it will approximate the $8.5 million for Atlanta.

The date of the stocking has not been set.

Cowboys, Packers Get Victor Nods

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — Dallas should practically wrap up the Eastern title in the National Football League Sunday and the Green Bay Packers should clinch at least a tie in the West.

The Buffalo Bills, coming on strong in the stretch, figure to even matters with Boston for an earlier defeat and nail down the American Football League's Eastern Division crown. Kansas City, with a bye, already had won the Western Division title.

NEW YORK (AP) — Each player on the team winning the professional football championship may receive a bonanza of $23,000, a record for a team sport.

The pay for two games would almost double the all-time high of $12,794 for a baseball World Series winner for a minimum of four games. The Los Angeles Dodgers of 1963 hold the baseball record.

When the National Football League winners meet in the first Super Bowl at the 93,000-capacity Los Angeles Coliseum in early January, each winner will get a guaranteed $15,000 and each loser $7,500. That breaks down to $250 a minute for each of the winners.

If the NFL game is played in the big Cotton Bowl in Dallas, a strong possibility, the winning share should match the record of $6052 by Cleveland for beating Baltimore in 1964. The AFL share would be smaller but the league set an all-time high a year ago when each Buffalo Bill got $5,189.

The mechanics of the Super Bowl game were announced Thursday night by Commissioner Pete Rozelle after both leagues accepted unanimously the recommendations of a joint committee.

"The weekend of Jan. 7-8 or he weekend of Jan. 15 are the likely dates," said Rozelle. "We are not able to announce a definite date at this time until we have talked more to the television people."

Rozelle said he would talk with all TV-networks and hoped to settle the matter soon. NFL games are carried by CBS and AFL games by NBC.

It is possible that the new league title games will be played on the same day, Sunday, Jan. 1 as part of a unique doubleheader, starting in Buffalo or Boston and ending in Dallas or St. Louis.

As of now, the AFL game is to be played Monday, Dec. 26 in the home park of the Eastern Division winner. The NFL game is to be played Sunday, Jan. 1 in the home park of the Eastern Conference champ. It is expected the AFL date will be moved up to avoid a long layoff before the Super Bowl.

The Super Bowl agreement was for one year only, subject to review. Although the AFL uses the two-point conversion rule and the NFL the one-point, there will be no two-point conversions in the Super Bowl. However, it will be tried in preseason exhibitions between the two leagues next summer.

The NFL also decided to stock the new franchise at New Orleans in the same manner as the Atlanta club was manned last winter. Each team, except Atlanta, will give up three players. Although no owner has been named for the new franchise and no price set for the franchise, it will approximate the $8.5 million for Atlanta.

The date of the stocking has not been set.

Cowboys, Packers Get Victor Nods

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Dallas should practically wrap up the Eastern title in the National Football League Sunday and the Green Bay Packers should clinch at least a tie in the West.

The Buffalo Bills, coming on strong in the stretch, figure to even matters with Boston for an earlier defeat and nail down the American Football League's Eastern Division crown. Kansas City, with a bye, already had won the Western Division title.

The old Hand picker tries it once more (all games are Sunday unless otherwise indicated):

NFL
Dallas 20, St. Louis 9—Cowboys smell that Super Bowl cash. Teams played 10-10 tie earlier but that was before Charley Johnson was hurt. Cards' tough defense will give Don Meredith the big rush but their offense hasn't produced a touchdown in the last two games. Cowboys pack too much punch.

Cleveland 42, New York 17—After that disaster in Washington the Giants are ready for anything. Browns are teetering to brink and can't afford another loss after Thanksgiving day in Dallas.

Green Bay 21, San Francisco 14. Packers still smarting from that 21-20 loss in San Francisco, their first loss. The 49ers have been averaging well over 30 points a game in last three outings, bombing Detroit 41-14.

Chicago 14, Baltimore 10—Don't like either club here. Colts wobbling with John Unitas' sore arm killing offense. Gale Sayers only plus of Bears' sick offense. Baltimore in desperate position, must win or Packer game next week means nothing.

Los Angeles 23, Detroit 10—Rams still dreaming of possible second-place finish if Colts collapse continues. Dick Bass ran for 136 yards when Rams beat Lions 14-7 in October. Los Angeles defense has been red hot with front four playing "get the quarterback" game.

Philadelphia 24, Pittsburgh 14—Steelers have been tough lately, knocking off Browns and Cards before losing to Cowboys and Cards in 6-3 rematch. Angles coming off a bye in a good spot to make a run for playoff in Miami with 6-5 record. Philadelphia won first game 31-14.

Minnesota 30 Atlanta 17—Vikings in bad mood after that close defeat by Green Bay. Falcons coming on week by week.

AFL

Oakland 21, New York 14, Saturday—Raiders were eliminated in West last week but Jets still have slim outside chance in East. Jets seldom do good on West Coast and Raiders have top pass defense against New York's best weapon, Joe Namath.

Buffalo 24, Boston 21. The Bills had their troubles early and so did Pats but both have been rolling recently. With everything hanging in the balance, we have to go with the Bills on solid line and better defense.

San Diego 21, Houston 17 — Both teams out of the race. Oilers going with youth have been playing toughest teams in recent starts. San Diego needs a win to stay over .500.

Denver 21, Miami 20—Welcome home Cookie Gilchrist! First trip of Cookie to Denver since the big explosion. Dick Wood passing for Dolphins who beat Denver earlier 24-7.

Stonerock Leads SCO Scoring Race

Four Circleville High School players are listed among the top 10 scorers in the South Central Ohio League.

Tim Stonerock with 45 points leads the pack. In second place is Bob Bristley, Greenfield McClain's junior scoring sensation, with 40 points.

Other Tigers in the top 10 include Dan Speakman with a 26-point total in two games, Dan Gibbs with 17 and Joe Winner with 16.

Circleville and Greenfield are the only league teams that have played two games.

ROGER Vaughan and Tim Rudduck with 20 and 17 points respectively represent Wilmington. Mike Henry's 16 gives Miami Trace a place on the top 10 list.

Here are the top scorers:

	Pts
Stonerock, Circleville	45
Bristley, Greenfield	40
Taylor, Greenfield	26
Speakman, Circleville	26
Kesinger, Greenfield	22
Vaughan, Wilmington	20
Rudduck, Wilmington	17

Minnesota upset Kansas State at Manhattan, Kan., 60-59 on Leroy Gardner's free throw with six seconds left. Tom Konala, who led the Gophers with 33 points and 23 rebounds, had tied the score at 59-59 with a charity toss 45 seconds earlier.

Sophs Show Promise As Buckeyes Stop Butler

By BYRON ROSEN

Dayton and Bowling Green, experienced and expecting big basketball seasons, needed second-half spurges to shake off opening opponents Thursday night while Ohio State's sophomores showed promise and 10th ranked Cincinnati poured it on in Buckeye and Bearcat victories.

Miami and Ohio University turned in tuneup triumphs in other features as the Ohio collegiate basketball campaign splashed into being with 22 games.

Sophs Jeff Miller with 14 points, Dennis Meadows with 10 and Steve Barnard and Steve Howell combining for 14 as alternate pivots helped Ohio State overcome Butler 74-67 at St. John Arena in Columbus.

Ohio State played without its prospective star, Bill Hosket, whose ailing knee won't be tested in competition for at least a week or so, but beat the Bulldogs more decisively than in the past two seasons—when the margin was a scant one point each time.

Seniors Ron Sepic, 18 points, and Al Rowley, 17, teamed with the newcomers to overpower a Butler squad plagued by turnovers.

The Bucks took charge late in the first half, breaking a 36-36 knot to go in front 44-36 at halftime, then after Butler closed to 49-48 OSU broke it open at 70-55.

Mike Rolf's 21 points and John Howard's 17 led the way as Cincinnati crushed visiting George Washington 85-61, playing the last eight minutes with substitutes.

Baldwin-Wallace came to Dayton with upset in its eye and jumped to a 9-2 lead. The Ohio Conference Yellow Jackets fought the all-veteran Flyers to a 36-36 halftime count—then Dayton came out in a zone press and blew it open. The Flyers ran up 17 of the second half's first 19 points, nine by Rudy Waterman, and went on to a 95-81 verdict led by Waterman's 19 points and Don May's 17 points, 17 rebounds.

Bowling Green, preseason pick for the Mid-American Conference championship, trailed Ball State by nine at halftime in Muncie, Ind., then caught fire for a 97-87 victory. Rich Hendrix bagged 32 points and Al Hairston 29 for the Falcons.

In other MAC teams' non-league debuts, Miami thumped Villa Madonna 68-54 at Oxford, Ohio University walloped Ohio Wesleyan 86-55 at Athens, but Kent State fell before visiting Indiana State 77-69.

Fred Foster led Miami with 25 points, sophomore Gerald McKee paced Ohio U. with 21 and Doug Sims got 24 for Kent, which rallied into a 53-52 lead before the Sycamores toppled the Flames.

Central State tested the 1966-67 version of Kentucky Wesleyan's 1966 NCAA College Division champions and came home from Owensboro on the short end of an 82-55 count, never threatening.

Cleveland State served notice it is to be reckoned with under new coach John McLendon, former Tennessee State and Cleveland pro Pipers mentor. The Vikings, with freshman Don Ross of Richmond, Va., pouring in 36 points, whipped Hiram 86-70 despite 34 tallies by Jim Warstler of the Terriers.

Wittenberg, perennial Ohio Conference power, showed its usual brilliant defense in holding Wooster 13 minutes of the second half without a field goal en route to a 52-39 decision in the OC lifeline.

Ohio Conference teams split four other games, Mount Union dropping a 70-64 nod to eastern Reserve whose Bill Rogers got 28 points, Marietta whipping Glenville (W.Va.) 80-48, Kenyon popping Ashland 65-50, and Muskingum losing a toughie 81-79 to Bethany (W.Va.).

Other action saw Youngstown clip Alliance (Pa.) 92-67, Steubenville cash 10 straight bonus free throws in staving off Wheeling 65-62, Rio Grande swamp Campbellsville (Ky.) 123-100, Wilmington lost 76-6 to Berea (Ky.), Cedarville with Al Kuoti's 33 defeat Walsh 39-60, Malone downed Thiel 74-61, and Findlay with Carter twins Jerry (25 points) and Jim (21) up to their old tricks overpower Bluffton 118-92.

Nothing much was expected from Vanderbilt this college basketball season with big Clyde Lee gone by graduation, but the Commodores upset Western Kentucky on the very first night of the new campaign.

Western Kentucky, which finished the 1966 season with a 25-3 record and with its star, Clem Haskins back, was favored to bowl over their Southeastern Conference opponent Thursday night.

But at the final whistle the unranked Commodores were on top 76-70 over the Hilltoppers, eighth-ranked in the preseason Associated Press poll.

Texas Western, second-ranked in the AP poll, opened the defense of their national championship with a 78-54 victory over Sam Houston State.

New Mexico, No. 6 led Mel Daniels' 19 points, beat Abilene Christian 63-52 at Albuquerque. Elvin Hayes, with 32 points, and Melvin Bell with 30, paced No. 7 Houston to a 96-84 triumph over Albuquerque at Houston.

Larry Miller, scoreless in the first half, broke loose for 18 points after the intermission to lead North Carolina, No. 8, over Clemson 76-65 at Chapel Hill. In another home opener, Cincinnati, No. 10, crushed George Washington 85-61 behind Mike Rolf's 21 points.

A turnout of 11,300, the largest ever to see a basketball game in

In a twin bill at Philadelphia, St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania defeated Albright 76-59 and Rutgers, behind Bob Lloyd's 25 points, whipped Penn 80-68.

Duke, No. 4 in the AP pre-season poll, opens tonight against Virginia Tech at Charlotte.

UCLA, No. 1, Kentucky, No. 3, and Louisville, No. 5, play their first games Saturday.

Burgess EUB Will Present 'Christmas Story' at LEHS

The Christmas Story, performed in pageantry and with live voices, will be presented Dec. 11 at Logan Elm High School.

Presenting the traditional and popular Christmas event will be the Burgess Avenue Church of Columbus. Narration, drama and color are all part of the program, scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m.

The cast includes 24 persons with acting parts in full costume, a narrator, choral groups from the Burgess Avenue Church and selected vocalists. Time period represented in the part ranges from the earliest prophetic utterances concerning the coming of the Saviour to the safely guided flight of the Christ Child into Egypt. The total number of persons participating, including the choir and solo voices, numbers approximately 75.

WRITTEN by the Rev. Irvin H. Lane, pastor of the Burgess Avenue church, the pageant was first presented in Portsmouth, in 1949 when Rev. Lane was serving there. Since that time the production has undergone many changes and has practically been rewritten.

It has been presented in Columbus at John Burroughs School in 1959, the Linmoor Jr. High School in 1961 and Hilltonia Jr. High School in 1960 and 1962.

In 1961 several Columbus northend churches sponsored its presentation and in 1962 it was promoted by the Franklin County EUB Men.

In 1964 the pageant was present at Newark, under the auspices of the EUB Churches of that area.

This year's presentation is being sponsored by EUB churches of Circleville and surrounding areas. Participating are Circleville First EUB, Circleville Calvary, Circleville Emanuel, Pickaway Circuit, Stoutsville Charge, Ringgold, Hallsville, Laurelville and Ashville.

Chairman for the project is Rev. Eugene Flowers, pastor of Circleville First EUB Church.

PEV. LANE is a graduate of the Pickaway Township High School and was licensed to preach from the Morris Church on the Pickaway Circuit. He has served as pastor of the Burgess Avenue Church in Columbus since 1950.

No admission will be charged, but a free will offering will be received. A warm invitation has been extended to the public to attend. A half-hour of holiday season organ music will precede the pageant presentation at 7 p. m.

Logan Elm High School is on the Circleville - Tarlton Road about six miles southeast of Circleville.

Signature Cards Are Must For Insurance Protection

Savings accounts, in an insured institution, are covered by a federal insurance agency against losses up to $15,000, recently raised from $10,000.

Local bank officials have pointed out, however, that omission of names on a signature card for a particular account can cause the loss of such protection. This is especially true, and sometimes happens, in the case of multiple accounts.

As an example of the loss of coverage and loss of long-time savings, the bankers pointed out the case of a Chicago family that lost more than $14,000 because of such an error.

The husband and wife had their savings, more than $24,000, distributed among three accounts in a savings and loan institution. They assumed each account was insured for $10,000 until the financial institution went under several months ago.

Auditors of the federal insurance agency told them that only one of their accounts was insured. Consequently they suffered a loss of $14,209. They were able to collect only one account covered by the insurance.

Bankers explained that the husband and wife thought they had established multiple accounts. One was a joint account in their names; the second carried their names plus that of a minor daughter; and the third was in their names plus that of a minor son.

However, somebody neglected to see that the two children signed signature cards which voided the insurance coverage on the accounts bearing the children's names in addition to the parents.

Although the savings and loan records showed three separate accounts, with the children's names on two of them, state law in Illinois specifies the joint tenants of an account are those whose signatures are on the signature card. Since all three cards were identical, bearing only the husband's and wife signatures, there were not three separate accounts, but one. Therefore, the maximum insurance coverage was $10,000 for the one account.

Bankers advise that a double check be made on all accounts to make sure signature cards are signed by every person's name the account is filed in.

No Immediate Food Price Drop Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new chairman of the House Agriculture Committee says there is no likelihood of any immediate drop in food prices but this situation may ultimately work out better for the housewife.

"In the long run, the prices of food depend on supply, and supply depends on whether the farmer gets a reasonable return for his work," says W.R. (Bobby) Poage, who hails from the cotton and farming area of central Texas.

As ranking Democrat on the committee, he steps in next log held by Rep. Harold D. Cooley of North Carolina. Cooley was defeated for re-election Nov. 8.

Poage reasons this way: "If prices of food products are maintained at a reasonable, stable level, the farmer will step up production, and in that way, a price satisfactory to the farmer and reasonable to the consumer is maintained.

"If the price the farmer receives is too low, he will cut down on production, and a serious shortage may result, bringing skyrocketing prices. Then the consumer really gets hurt."

U.S. farmers, he told an interviewer, do a masterful job of keeping the country supplied with food, and also add to the nation's economy by producing for export. But only about a third of the price the consumer pay reaches the farmer, he says. The rest goes to processors, distributors and retailers, and for handling expenses and incidental costs such as fancy packaging.

The way prices and other things are going right now, he does not see how food prices can come down.

"They are more likely to go up a little," he concedes. "But if prices can be maintained, through supply, at a reasonable level, the disaster of shortages will be avoided, and the consumer's spaced peak prices."

Permits Available At Two Offices

Food service operating and house trailer park licenses are now available in this community.

Poth licenses may be acquired at either the Pickaway County Health Department office in the Courthouse or the Circleville Health Department office in the City Building.

Normal hours at both offices are from 9 a. m. to 12 and 1 to 4 p. m. The licenses are required by Jan. 1.

Many OEA Delegates Feel Teacher Strikes Are Wrong

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A random poll of delegates to the Ohio Education Association's annual convention indicates individual members agree with their leaders that strikes by school teachers are wrong.

Comments ranged from "illegal" to "immoral" and "unprofessional" Thursday as the big educational organization convened its three-day meeting at Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

None of the delegates questioned said he was a member of the Ohio Federation of Teachers which backed strikes by its local chapters recently in Youngstown and Hubbard.

Typical was the comment of one of the better known educators in the OEA. State Sen. elect Walter E. Powell of Fairfield, also a veteran educator, called teacher strikes "unprofessional" and added "when a teacher has a contract, he has no right to violate it."

Powell said he believes a better answer might be "the new approach of imposing sanctions" on states or school districts to improve the lot of the teacher.

But Powell added that sanctions still are questionable in terms of effectiveness. "As far as I know, they have not proven to be effective but neither have said. He was a member of the Ohio House Education Committee in the last legislature."

Pierre Earney, a teacher from Euclid, said "I don't go along with the idea of strikes. It is true that something needs to be done but I think it is in terms of more action in the local associations. We need to improve our bargaining position with school boards."

Mrs. Alma Bernhardt, high school teacher from Summit County, attacked teacher strikes on moral grounds. She said teachers have no right to strike "because it is the children who suffer. The OEA must take the place of these unions. They know more about the problems and are better equipped to deal with them."

Roger Gable, teacher from Dayton, said he felt teacher strikes are illegal "because it already has been determined that school teachers are public employees and the law is pretty clear on that."

The more than 1,000 delegates at the opening day session cleared the way for a vote on a proposed constitutional change which the OEA's new executive secretary, Dr. Stayner F. Brighton, endorsed in an interview Tuesday.

It would give the association's executive committee the power to expel members suspected of being union infiltrators whose "activity is directed against the constitution of the association."

Brighton said in endorsing the proposal that it was designed to "prevent people from using dual (union and OEA) membership to under cut our organization."

Ringman's, Circleville's only independent drug store, locally owned and operated by Charles Scheiber, has completed an extensive remodeling project.

Designed to offer customers ease of self-selection, Scheiber however, emphasized that sufficient sales personnel are always available to assist patrons.

Included in the modernization are such innovations as a fully catcoted store, all new lunch counter and seating; all metal shelving, new lighting, all new prescription department, enlarged sundries department and an enlarged cosmetics department with many new lines added.

A remodeling celebration is planned after the first of the year, according to Scheiber.

Canton Police, Fire Personnel Remain Adamant

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Police and firemen who have been demonstrating at city hall this week for higher pay have indicated they do not intend to modify their demands.

However, Alfonso Conde, police representative, said he would take city council's best offer to the men for consideration after the windup of today's talks.

Council has offered $450 annual pay hikes and $3 an hour for overtime. When that offer was rejected Wednesday, council asked the police-fire representatives to bring in a counter proposal.

Police and firemen were demanding a $600 annual wage boost across the board, plus $30-a-year longevity up to $400 and improved fringe benefits.

Rotary Club Hears Rundown On Perfection of Lighting

An interesting description of how man has worked hundreds of years to perfect light featured the program format during Thursday's regular Rotary Club meeting at the L-K Restaurant.

Presenting the detailed rundown was William W. Woodward of Canal Winchester, a renowned collector of lighting devices. His address was illustrated by color slides.

The speaker's appearance here was sponsored by the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. Woodward described his fascinating collection under the name "Man's Pathway from Darkness to Light."

The speaker, introduced by monthly program director Earl Palm, noted that the light we enjoy today is generally taken for granted. "But actually it is the result of many hundreds of years of effort," he declared.

THE STORY of light development first interested Woodward when he was given an early grease light many years ago. This prompted him to begin collecting lighting devices.

On evenings and weekends he visited auctions, farm sales, antique shops and junk shops, too. Today his collection numbers more than 250 pieces.

Seeking a permanent home for the collection, Woodward wanted to make it available to students, historians and interested persons. In order to preserve his history of lighting, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric purchased the entire collection.

At the present time about one-sixth of Woodward's improvements are on display at the Center of Science and Industry in Columbus. The Electric Co. has retained the collector to serve as curator and to lecture on the collection and its significance.

Woodward's regular line of work is investment counseling.
